LOCAL BUSINESS MAN DROWNED WHEN BOAT CAPSIZES ON INLET

A. G. H. Harding Loses Life While Fishing Off Whittaker Point—Police Fail to Recover Body After Dragging Waters for Hours —No Witness of Actual Tragedy

OVERTURNING of a rowboat on Saanich Inlet caused the death of A. G. H. Harding, 1161 Fort Street, well-known and popular commission agent, yesterday afternoon. The body has not been recovered, although dragging operations have been maintained by police.

The manner in which the small boat from which Mr. Harding was fishing, capsized, is unknown. The accident took place off Whittaker Point at a time when the sea was smooth.

WENT FISHING

An ardent sportsman, Mr. Harding yesterday went to the fishing grounds to troll for salmon. He started from Moodyville float a few moments before W. N. Lenfesty put out in another boat, powered with an outboard motor.

Mr. Lenfesty was about 500 yards distant. He was watching the other boat. He turned to adjust the motor on his own boat, and when he again looked ahead, it was to see Mr. Harding's rowboat floating bottom-up.

Stepping up the engine to its limit, Mr. Lenfesty hastened to the scene. There was no sign of the missing man.

POLICE CALLED

After cruising about the vicinity for a few moments in search of signs of Mr. Harding, Mr. Lenfesty returned with all speed to Moodyville and telephoned to the Saanich and Provincial Police. Constables Lennox and Fields responded from the provincial force, with dragging equipment. They were later joined by Chief Rankin and Constable Cummings, of Saanich.

The officers, assisted by Mr. Lenfesty and other sportsmen, conducted dragging operations for the balance of the day, without success.

THEORY ON ACCIDENT

Lacking eye-witness evidence of the actual tragedy, police came to the conclusion that Mr. Harding rose in his boat to reel in his line, which had been struck by a fish or had fouled on a snag, and in doing so had capsized the small craft.

Mr. Harding was well known in business circles. For a number of years he had acted as manufacturers' agent, and had won a host of friends, not only in Victoria, but throughout the province. He resided with his sisters at 1161 Fort Street.

Higher Rate on Anthracite Is Ottawa Forecast

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—In a news page story today The Ottawa Citizen forecasts that the tariff on American anthracite coal, which was placed at forty cents a ton last session, will be increased to sixty cents at the coming session.

This, it is forecast, would be in order to give the British anthracite, which comes in free, an additional twenty cents a ton preference under the Canada-United Kingdom agreement.

INSISTING END BE PUT TO WAR

Irish Ratepayers and Farmers Call On Dail to Terminate Hostilities

DUBLIN, Sept. 1 (CP).—Ratepayers and farmers of the counties of Dublin, Meath and Kildare, meeting in the Mansion House today, adopted a resolution calling upon the Dail Eireann to end immediately economic war against the United Kingdom.

The resolution included a request that every county in the Irish Free State should hold meetings to prepare for a convention to be held in Dublin on September 15 with a view to the addition of effective measures. The motion added that the 20 per cent tariff on all livestock and farm produce imposed by the United Kingdom following the failure of the Irish Free State to pay land annuities must lead to ruin for the whole farming community of the Free State.

USELESS TALK

"It is useless for De Valera to talk about a scheme for growing more wheat, declared Captain Daly, of County Dublin. "The Free State Minister of Agriculture (Dr. James Ryan), never tilled a piece of land in his life. Is a farmer to put cattle out on the land and let them die?"

Yesterday 400 Meath farmers met at Navan and called on all farmers' organizations to co-operate in a campaign for safeguarding Free State agriculture.

REMOVES ALL IMPORT BANS

Australian Budget Balanced Except for War Service Debt to Britain

CANBERRA, Australia, Sept. 1 (CP).—Prime Minister J. A. Lyons, who is also Treasurer of the Commonwealth, presented a balanced budget, excluding the war service debt to the United Kingdom, in the House of Representatives today. He showed an estimated surplus of £12,000. If the war service debts are included, however, the surplus would be turned into a deficit of £4,900,000

EXPENDITURES REDUCED

Expenditures for the coming year were estimated by the Prime Minister at £67,288,000, or £2,938,000 less than last year.

The estimates include savings of £1,479,000, of which £1,100,000 is in reduction of pensions and £245,000 in cuts in parliamentary allowances and civil service salaries.

No new taxation was announced. Practically all agricultural machinery will be exempted from sales tax and primage duty, as well as machinery parts used in mining.

PROHIBITIONS REMOVED

A proclamation issued removes all import prohibitions imposed by the Scullin Government in order to rectify the adverse trade balance. Items affected include matches, castiron pipes and fittings, wireless sets, batteries, accumulators and plated ware.

Captain Mollison Lands in Quebec

QUEBEC, Sept. 1 (CP).—Captain Mollison received an enthusiastic reception as he landed on the St. Louis Airport at 5:25 p.m. (Eastern standard time), today, 7 hours and 25 minutes after taking off from Sydney, N.S.

Mollison left Sydney with only a map torn from a railway timetable to guide him and had to land first in a field as he did not recognize the airport. The aviator, who has flown to many parts of the world, was enthusiastic over the reception he had received throughout the Maritime Provinces and here.

PREMIER'S AUNT PASSES

HOPEWELL HILL, N.B., Sept. 1 (CP).—Last surviving aunt of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Mrs. Mary Stiles died today at the age of ninety-six years and six months. Death came after a few weeks' illness.

Automatically Becomes New York Mayor

British Food Manufacturers Taking Wheat Under Barter Plan

TORONTO, Sept. 1 (CP).—Within three weeks Crosse & Blackwell, British food manufacturers, expect to have twenty carloads of Western Canada wheat ready to move out of Winnipeg for Liverpool. It has already been sold to English account.

The wheat is being accumulated under the company's "Imperial Conference wheat barter" plan, whereby the manufacturers agree to use all money spent by Canadians in the Prairie Provinces for their food products, for the purchase and shipment of wheat to Britain. During August sufficient funds were collected to purchase eight freight-car loads of grain.

Anticipates Action by Governor in Proceedings to Oust Him

HEARING OF CHARGES COMES TO ABRUPT END

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Mayor James J. Walker tonight announced he was resigning his office immediately.

In a formal statement accompanying his letter of resignation, the mayor said he was submitting his case to the people of New York. "I have not been given an opportunity to prove my record of service to the city as its mayor for two terms. To that forum, the people of the City of New York, I leave my case in the spirit of true democracy, conscious of the rectitude of my official acts and with a faith in the fair judgment of my fellow citizens."

The mayor made no specific reference to reports he would run for re-election.

CRITICAL OF HEARING

The mayor criticized the conduct of the hearing which was being conducted by Governor Franklin D Roosevelt on charges on which his removal was asked.

Recommendations of Kidd Committee Are Strongly Condemned

Native Sons of Canada, in Protest Against Findings of Commission, Describe Report as Being Sectional and Lacking in Faith

THE Kidd committee recommendations came in for severe condemnation at the hands of the Victoria Assembly, No. 1, Native Sons of Canada, at its meeting last night. Enumerating the sections to which exception was taken, the resolution adopted by the meeting set out its views as follows: "In our opinion the portions of the report of the Kidd committee to which we take exception exhibit a destructive sectionalism and will result in a further stirring up of sectionalism and controversy in our fair province and a delay in the return of better times."

Surprise is expressed in the resolution adopted that a group of British Columbia business men should exhibit such pessimism and lack of vision and faith and suggests that just such a spirit as is here exhibited may have been responsible in large measure for conditions now prevailing.

CHARGES CLASS MOVE

It is set out that a desire for class legislation is exemplified in the recommendation to place the whole cost of normal school training upon the students. It also condemns the proposed curtailment of free education for the same reason, that it is a step in the direction of class legislation.

While recognizing the problem that faces the province in the P.G.E., the resolution adopted by the Native Sons hopes the railway will remain the property of the Province rather than sacrifice it by a forced sale into "the hands of a speculating group."

VON GRONAU OFF FOR THE KURILES

German Airmen on Safe and Sane World Flight Leave Alaska for Japanese Islands

OCHIISHI, Hokkaido, Japan, Sept. 2 (Friday).—Capt. Wolfgang von Gronau and his companions, who are flying around the world from Germany, arrived in Kakumabetsu Bay, Paramushiru Island, at 12:06 p.m., Tokio time, today.

ST. PAUL ISLAND, Bering Sea, Sept. 1 (AP).—Captain Wolfgang von Gronau, German aviator, and his three companions, flying around the world in a seaplane, departed from Attu Island for the Kurile Islands, Japan, at 12:10 p.m., P.S.T., today.

The globe-girdling Germans arrived on Attu Island yesterday and remained overnight before starting their latest hop of approximately 700 miles to the nearer of the Kurile group of islands, northeast of the coast of Japan.

Von Gronau consistently passed through bad weather and had no trouble for the last several days of his flight. He expected to keep in communication with civilization through the military radio station on St. Paul Island.

Credit to Be Renewed

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—The $90,000,000 rediscount credit granted to the Reichsbank by the world bank and guaranteed by the central banks of the United Kingdom, France and the United States, will be renewed for three months at its expiration September 4, it was learned today.

GOVERNMENT TO MAKE ANALYSIS

No Intention of "Scrapping" Kidd Report, It Is Said Officially

Despite unofficial suggestions to the contrary, the Government has no intention of "scrapping" the Kidd report, Premier Tolmie intimated yesterday. As arranged, it has printed twenty-five copies of the report for Mr. Kidd and the members of his committee, and is arranging to print as many more copies as may be required by the public.

On its own reaction to the report, the Government is preparing data from each of the operating departments of the ministry, which may later be published in the form of a white paper. Just when the Government's official comment on the report will be ready for publication is not certain, but each department has been asked to prepare a statement analyzing proposals in the Kidd report, without bias.

FIGURES INCORRECT

The Government's reply is expected to show that the figures of the Kidd committee on the financial basis of its findings were in error at many points, according to the official published accounts. The net debt of the Province is said to have been overestimated by some $8,000,000; while sinking funds held at present value are several millions more than the Kidd committee estimated.

In several other particulars the report showed gross costs without offsetting revenues, notably in the case of British Columbia House, London; while in dealing with highway construction the report omitted reference to a growth in motor traffic of 2,200 per cent since 1912, comprising a complete change from horse-drawn vehicles to rapid motor transport.

The Government has taken no part in ridiculing the report in any particular, and, on the contrary, all departments are under orders to present fair and impartial analyses of the facts stated in the report.

Victorian Leads at Exhibition

VANCOUVER, Sept. 1 (CP).—The largest throng so far, this year, crowded into the Canada Pacific Exhibition grounds today. It was Children's Day, but thousands of adults went along to see the sights.

G. A. Fagerberg, Victoria, stepped out in the fruit classes to win numerous awards, many of them first. He won first in wealthy apples, first in Dr. Jules Guyot pears, and first for his best collection, six varieties, of plums. He also won the collection of peaches and took awards in crab apples. Craig's Orchards, Victoria, was another winner of awards in the apple classes.

Canada May Secure Third Of British Lumber Trade

There is a definite possibility that Canadian lumber mills may secure one-third of the United Kingdom lumber market, providing that they go after the business, it was revealed in a memorandum submitted yesterday to the Provincial Government by members of the trade delegation to Ottawa. The delegation, which was headed by J. H. McDonald, New Westminster, stated that at the Imperial Conference British timber importers were not opposed to Canada obtaining this proportion of the three billion feet annually consumed in the United Kingdom.

The delegation also told the Government, through the markets extension committee, headed by Hon. N. S. Lougheed, that prospects for increased business with other dominions and British colonies were bright.

The point was stressed by the lumbermen that the good work done and Imperial sentiment established at Ottawa should be followed up to secure for British Columbia a proper proportion of the possible trade in British countries.

The delegation also mentioned that the Minister of Trade and Commerce had shown sympathy towards the establishment of a competitive freight service to carry lumber from British Columbia ports to South Africa.

Great praise was voiced by the delegation for the efforts of Premier Tolmie to assist in the development of the lumber trade, and also for the assistance rendered by Hon. H. H. Stevens.

FRENCH CABINET DISCUSSES GERMAN MOVE FOR RELEASE FROM MILITARY LIMITATION

Informal Nature of Communication Precludes Comment by Premier Herriot—Germans Claim Desire for General Reduction of Armaments by All Nations Their Real Objective

Great Britain Maintains Her Policy of Observance

PARIS, Sept. 1.—Germany's attempt to free herself from the limitations placed on her armaments by the Versailles Treaty was discussed in great detail at a meeting of the Cabinet today, but at the conclusion of the session not a word was forthcoming concerning the stand France will take.

Although every member of the Government was uncommunicative concerning the representations that have been made by Germany to France, it was understood the principal points in the German communication were these

PRINCIPAL POINTS

1. Modification of the Versailles Treaty and its provision for a twelve-year service basis in the German army.
2. Amalgamation of compulsory military service and the period served with the militia.
3. Sanction for a German army of 300,000 men. (The present army numbers about 100,000.)
4. Permission for Germany to maintain heavy, light and coastal artillery.
5. Permission for maintaining tanks for the German army.
6. Establishment of a complete military aviation corps.
7. Establishment of a school for military pilots.
8. Extension of the German navy by the addition of airplane carriers, cruisers and submarines.
9. Sanction for the construction of forts along Germany's frontiers.
10. Permission to build thirty-five war material factories.

SECRECY REQUESTED

It was learned, authoritatively, Premier Edouard Herriot refrained from discussing the German action because he wanted to observe correct usage. Secrecy was requested in the communication received from the Berlin Government. This communication was in the form of an aide-memoire, which is a representation less formal than an official note.

A communique issued at the close of the Cabinet session said only

Paraguay Refuses To Accept Truce In Chaco Dispute

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Paraguay today refused to accept a military truce with Bolivia in the disputed Chaco wilderness region on the basis of the present positions of troops.

In a note to the neutral nations working to prevent a war in South America, Paraguay said:

"We have no guarantee the truce cannot be utilized by Bolivia to complete her mobilization and to realize her military objective, which consists in overcoming our resistance and reaching the Paraguay River."

RESIGNATION IS ACCEPTED

United States Minister to Canada Will Enter Political Battle

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 1.—The resignation of Col. Hanford MacNider as United States Minister to Canada was accepted today by President Hoover. Simultaneously an announcement was made the former assistant secretary of war would participate in the Republican campaign in an effort to line up the war veteran vote.

President Hoover apparently has taken no immediate steps to fill the Canadian post. William R. Castle, Jr., acting secretary of the State Department, said he knew of no outstanding candidate at the present time.

Mr. MacNider, in line with a White House announcement that his "private affairs" required attention, said in Chicago he would return to Iowa to look into his banking and farming interests.

WARM FRIEND OF PRESIDENT

OTTAWA, Sept. 1 (CP).—The resignation today of Hon. Hanford MacNider, United States Minister to Canada, is preliminary to his projection into the political battle which has now been joined in that republic. Colonel MacNider is a strong supporter of President Hoover and a warm personal friend of the chief executive.

"Jack" MacNider, as he was known in Government and administrative circles here, was one of the most popular figures in the capital, and genuine expressions of regret are heard at his going. Diplomatic and thoughtful, he was nevertheless the antithesis of the diplomat of tradition. Canadian officials regarded him as an extremely capable envoy, his successful negotiation of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty being the measure of his capacity.

Belgo-Canadian Trade Pact May Be Revised Soon

QUEBEC, Sept. 1 (CP).—Intimation that a new trade agreement between Canada and Belgium is being considered by both countries was given here today by J. Van Rickstol, Consul-General for Belgium at Vancouver.

Mr. Van Rickstol, who arrived here today aboard the Empress of Britain from Belgium, said the present agreement between the two countries was signed in 1922 and was similar to the Franco-Canadian trade agreement, which was recently allowed to lapse. Franco-Canadian negotiations for a new agreement might well indicate similar action between Belgium and Canada, he said.

THREE MEN RAID U.S. RUM CHASER

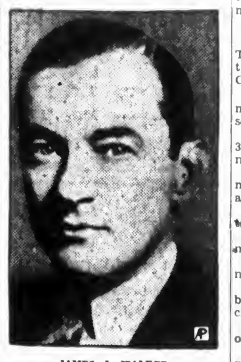

Watchman on Ship Beaten—Pistols, Rifles and Machine Guns Stolen From Craft

ASTORIA, Ore., Sept. 1.—Speculation as to the identity of three armed and masked men who last night raided the United States Coastguard rum chaser No. 2359 while it was moored at a Port of Astoria terminal, revolved tonight about Communists and rumrunners.

Federal, state, county and city officials who are conducting the investigation refused to discuss the raid in which the watchman on board the rum chaser was beaten and bound, the telephone connections cut and two rifles, two automatic pistols and a machine gun stolen.

Commander R. G. Hemingway, in charge of coastguard vessels here, refused to reveal the identity of the watchman. The man was said, however, not to have been beaten severely.

Resignation Brings Inquiry to End

JAMES J. WALKER
Mayor of New York since 1925, resigned his office last night, stating that he would leave his case to the fair judgment of his fellow citizens. He was referring to an investigation being conducted by Governor Roosevelt of New York.

NATIONAL BODY TO BE FORMED

Agricultural Officials Approve Plan—Committee Reports Kept Secret

TORONTO, Sept. 1 (CP).—Canada is to have a national committee on agricultural services, headed by the Federal Minister of Agriculture.

The proposal was unanimously approved by one hundred agricultural officials from all parts of the Dominion at the conclusion of their four-day conference here tonight. A national committee, it is expected, will serve best the purpose of the conference to unify and co-ordinate all agricultural services.

EXECUTIVE HEADS

As executive heads the committee will have the Federal Minister of Agriculture and the nine provincial ministers. A national advisory committee on agricultural services will include the Federal deputy and assistant deputy minister, the nine provincial deputy ministers of agriculture, the heads of the agricultural and veterinary colleges, and representatives of the provincial research foundations, the National Research Council, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, the Board of Grain Commissioners, the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists, and the two railway systems.

Hon Robert Weir, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, told the conference before closing tonight its progress had been strikingly similar to the recent conference at Ottawa. Beginning with high hopes, it had met great difficulties only to surmount them.

"EAST MEETS WEST"

In commenting on the presence of nine provincial ministers, Hon G. Shelton Sharpe, Minister of Agriculture for Prince Edward Island, termed the conference "the place where East and West meet."

The conference debated at length reports of special committees, making a number of revisions. The reports are being kept secret until they have been considered by provincial governments.

CHANCELLOR CHALLENGED

Adolf Hitler Delivers Fiery Oration in Response to Von Papen

BERLIN, Sept. 1.—Creating a new slogan, "Germany Is Awake," Adolf Hitler aroused a National Socialist gathering to frenzy tonight by challenging Chancellor Franz von Papen to dissolve the Reichstag.

Surrounded by his trusty henchmen in the Sportpalast, he hurled one of his fiery orations in reply to the Chancellor's declarations that he would not have a part in ruling Germany, nor would he be allowed to upset the Government by force of arms.

"Let them dissolve the Reichstag," he shouted, "once, twice, thrice or a hundred times. We shall win through, and that soon, for we have the longest wind."

An audience jammed to the rafters jumped up en masse and cheered itself hoarse. Some 20,000 persons a large percentage of them women stamped their feet in approbation.

FORENSIC BARBS

Once more the Fascist chieftain criticized the Republican regime for its acts during the past thirteen years, and shot forensic barbs at Chancellor von Papen for what he called his "Feudal Herrenklub," and his "christian, conservative" outlook.

Hitler scoffed at the idea of his men being admitted to the Cabinet "to be tamed," and thundered "We shall take nothing as an act of grace—we shall take office as our right."

"We don't need an army as a prop," he retorted to the Government's warning that the Reichswehr was behind it. "Our backbone is the nation itself."

Finds Sleep Controlled By Iodine in the Blood

YORK, England, Sept. 1.—A new idea of what sleep really is—discovery that it seems to be controlled by the amount of iodine in the blood—was reported today to the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

Thyroxin, the iodine-containing secretion of the thyroid gland, apparently is the sleep-controlling substance, said Dr. G. S. Carter. It does its work in reverse fashion to artificial sleep-producing drugs, however. Sleep seems to come when the supply of thyroxin in the blood is decreased, not increased.

The Winter-long "sleep," or hibernation that is habitual for many animals, also seems to be controlled by thyroxin, Dr Carter said his experiments showed.

He tried thyroxin in frogs, which have a different temperature and pulse rate in Winter while hibernating than in Summer when they are active. When thyroxin was added to the heart of the hibernating frog, its temperature and pulse increased to the Summer level. Thyroxin was the only gland secretion that had this effect.

GAS AGREEMENT S CONSIDERED

Oak Bay and Controlling Corporation Discuss Minor Details of Undertaking

The Oak Bay Council has not yet ntered into the formal agreement with the Victoria Gas Company, nder which the latter proposes to onnect up the gas mains from the ity with the three contiguous municipalities of Oak Bay, Saanich and squimalt.

The general terms of the agreeent to be intered into have been ettled. There are a few details in he wording of it which is being discussed between the solicitors for the B.C. Electric Company, which conols the gas corporation, and the unicipality.

The other two municipalities are eing advised in all the details of he negotiations.

At the meeting of the Oak Bay Council last evening, the proposed greement was allowed to stand over or later consideration after the olicitors have completed their negotiations.

PROPOSALS CONDEMNED

In the preamble to the resolution, the following recommendations of the Kidd committee are specified for condemnation:

1. Free education only up to the thirteenth year.
2. Cost of normal schools to be borne by normal students.
3. Reduction of teachers' salaries.
4. Abandonment of University of British Columbia.
5. Temporary nonenforcement of Minimum Wage Act.
6. Sale of university lands.
7. Forced sale of Pacific Great Eastern Railway.
8. Reduction in civil service personnel and salaries.

REASONS SET OUT

The resolution proper reads as follows:

Be it resolved that as Native-born Canadians who are vitally interested in the welfare of Canada, particularly of this province of which we are taxpayers, we, the members of Victoria Assembly No. 1, Native Sons of Canada, are of opinion that:

1. The recommendation for the curtailment of free education is suggesting "class" legislation and is an attempt to deprive the youths of British Columbia of their right to compete on equal terms with those from other places and to render them incapable of retaining a foothold in their own province and to force them into the ranks of the unskilled "drifters" and "floaters." It would not "keep the boys at home."

2. The recommendation that the entire cost of the normal school system be borne by the normal students is another evidence of the desire for "class" legislation and is an attempt to retain for the richer young men and women the most honorable profession of teaching.

3. The recommendation for the reduction of teachers' salaries, if adopted, would drive from the teaching profession its most valuable members whose scholarship and leadership are needed in the development of the education and character training of our youth.

FAVOR UNIVERSITY

4. The recommendation for the practical abandonment of the University of British Columbmia, if adopted, would, with one swift stroke, sweep away all chances of the financially handicapped student acquiring higher education in the liberal arts and sciences; it would render it necessary for the richer student to go elsewhere, with British Columbia money, to acquire higher training; it would create a condition which would necessitate the importation of skilled professionals rather than the training of British Columbia men and women to fill British Columbia positions and requirements. It would not "keep the boys at home."

5. The recommendation for the temporary nonenforcement of the Minimum Wage Act apparently bears a close relationship to the recommendation for curtailment of free education. Together, they would create the exploitation of child labor, which, history proves, results in national decay.

6. The brightest light should be thrown on the suggestion that the university lands be sold. These lands, we understand, are adjacent to the province's largest city and have an enormous potential value. Their sale during a depression would bring "depression prices" which would be bargains for those in a position to take advantage of present conditions. The Province would be the loser.

OPPOSE FORCED SALE

7. The forced sale of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway would, undoubtedly, place a heavy British Columbia public investment in the hands of a speculating group at a bargain price. However, we agree the problem of this railway is serious, but believe that the P.G.E. will prove to be a vital factor in the further development of the province and hope it will remain the property of the people.

8. A reduction in the personnel of the civil service would only aggravate the unemployment situation. It should be obvious to the members of the committee that the creation of unemployment will not create employment.

It is further resolved that, as the period during which the Kidd Committee studied the business methods, organization and departments of the British Columbia Government comprised only a few weeks, and, as the British Columbia Government is the biggest business in the province, it is our opinion that the knowledge acquired from this short course of study can only be a superficial one and that the Government would, if changes are contemplated, be better guided by the experience and training of its departmental managers.

SURPRISING PESSIMISM

Be it still further resolved that this assembly is surprised that a group of British Columbia business men should exhibit such pessimism and lack of vision and faith, and wonders if the present period of stress has not been created by this and other groups with similar opinion and outlook; also it is surprised at the absence from the report of any suggestions that would result in the provincial-wide resumption of commerce and employment.

Be it still further resolved that, in our opinion, the portions of the report of the Kidd Committee to which we take exception exhibits a destructive sectionalism and will result in a further stirring up of sectionalism and controversy in our fair province and a delay in the return of better times.

The meeting of the Native Sons of Canada which was held last evening was the opening one for the coming months following a cessation from meetings during the Summer season.

There was a large attendance at the meeting, which was presided over by First Vice-President Alexander Montelth, in the absence from the city of President Reginald Hayward, M.P.P.

Revision Likely For Trade Treaty

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—A special cable from Pretoria, to The New York Times today says:

"South Africa's trade treaty with Germany is likely to be revised in the light of the agreements at Ottawa.

"No special session of Parliament has been summoned to ratify the Ottawa agreements. But the Cabinet is expected to enforce them by proclamation when N. C. Havenga, Minister of Finance, returns, and at the same time to settle the German Treaty question."

JEWELER CHARGED WITH FAKE HOLDUP

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.— Charles W. Schuman, forty-three, a member of the eighty-year-old jewelry firm of C. W. Schuman, has been arrested with three others after an investigation of a hoidup, in which the store was robbed of $135,000 worth of gems last month.

Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney, who personally directed the investigation, charged the hold-up was faked and said one of the prisoners, Larry Levy, ex-convict, admitted his part in the conspiracy.

CHOCOLATE LANDS K.O.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1. — Kid Chocolate, Cuban negro holder of the junior lightweight championship, knocked out Frankie Marchese, of New York, in the fourth round of a six-round bout at the Freeport Municipal Stadium, tonight. Chocolate's title was not at stake, as Marchese came in a half-pound over the class limit of 130 pounds. Chocolate scaled 128 3-4 pounds.

A crowd of 4,000 saw the Cuban outclass his foe.

WINNING STREAK ENDS

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Hans Birkie, Oakland, heavyweight, stopped Isidore Gastanaga's winning streak tonight, outpointing the Spanish sensation in ten rounds at the Queensboro Stadium. Birkie weighed 195½; Gastanaga 190½.

MEETING POSTPONED

Monday being Labor Day, the meeting of Court Vancouver, No. 5755, A.O.F., has been postponed until Monday, September 12, when the report of the convention delegates will be placed before the membership

RELIEF MEETING DATE IS FIXED

Premier R. B. Bennett to Meet Western Representatives on Tuesday

CALGARY, Sept. 1 (CP).—The whole question of unemployment relief will be threshed out in a conference to be held in Calgary, September 6, when Prime Minister R. B. Bennett will meet representatives of the four Western provinces and principal cities.

During discussions Mr. Bennett, it is understood, will be asked to have the Dominion administration assume 50 per cent of the total cost of direct relief.

Arrangements for the meeting were completed at a conference between Prime Minister Bennett and Premier John Brownlee, of Alberta.

British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and all the leading cities in the West will send delegates to interview Canada's Prime Minister, it is announced.

FRENCH CABINET DISCUSSES GERMAN MOVE FOR MILITARY RELEASE

that the Premier had informed his colleagues of the external situation.

The newspaper, Le Temps, said it understood the German Government was forwarding to Washington and Rome, communications similar to the one sent France.

Official circles expected the French Government to communicate, without delay, with the interested Powers concerning the German move.

Le Temps asserted that Germany's "menace to rearm" had deliberately destroyed the movement which was taking place for the reduction of armaments.

BEHIND GOVERNMENT

BERLIN, Sept. 1. — Every ex-service man in Germany stands behind the Government's efforts to obtain equality in armaments with other nations, and to bring about revision of the Versailles Treaty, Colonel Theodore Duesterberg, second chairman of the Steel Helmet War Veterans' organization, declared today.

Colonel Duesterberg, who ran for President this Spring against Paul von Hindenburg and Adolf Hitler, made this statement in a press interview prior to the opening of the Steel Helmet convention, at which 150,000 delegates are representing the membership of 1,000,000 ex-service men.

Meanwhile, a Government spokesman reiterated Germany's insistence other nations must disarm just as Germany has.

"Germany favors a radical reduction of armaments, but this must be done according to the same principles for all States," the spokesman said. The measures to be taken by Germany must fall in line with the character and extent of general reduction of armaments."

OFFICIAL DENIAL

The official press department denied the Government had sent either a note or a memorandum on the arms subject to France. The French ambassador, it was explained, merely had been provided with a "loose aide memoire."

The Steel Helmet convention had the effect of stealing the spotlight from Hitler. He returned from a brief automobile ride to his quarters in the Kaiserhof Hotel, and was surprised to find the place lined with men in grey uniforms closely resembling the outfits of the Reichswehr.

From the beginning, the Colonel said, his organization had supported the idea of a Cabinet responsible to the President similar to the one that has been established.

FRIENDLY OBSERVANCE

LONDON, Sept. 1 (CP).—Great Britain is, of course, being kept fully informed of the Franco-German discussions regarding Germany's claim for equality in armaments; but for the time being, at any rate, she will maintain her normal policy of friendly observance.

The Government denies reports it has formally deprecated a German tendency to picture Great Britain as a supporter of her claims as against France; but at the same time, political observers recognize Great Britain would resent any attempt by Germany to place her in the light of a protagonist in a dispute with France.

It is pointed out that all the interested powers, with the exception of France, expressed sympathy with the German case when it was outlined by the then Chancellor, Dr. Heinrich Bruening, before the world disarmament conference at Geneva last April.

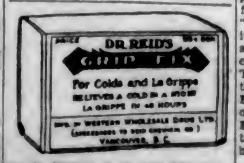

GROUNDWORK LAID

PARIS, Sept. 1.—Informed quarters asserted the question of German equality in armaments was discussed by the Premier and Sir Herbert Samuel, British Home Secretary, when the two met in Jersey, and that a groundwork for a line of action was laid.

The superior French War Council claims there is little difference between the French and German armies when quality of training is considered, and has put a mass of information on alleged German secret armaments at the disposal of the Government. The War Council maintains the German army numbers 200,000, and is trained to fight rather than act as a police force, as the Versailles Treaty intended.

MILLION-DOLLAR FIRE

KANAB, Utah, Sept. 1 (CP). — Fire which broke out in the Union Pacific Lodge on the north rim of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in Arizona, early today, destroyed the lodge, valued by railroad company officials at a million dollars, and two cabins.

VISITING ARTIST GIVES PLEASURE

Madame Norma Smythe, Soprano, and Stanley Bulley, Organist, Give Recital at Cathedral

A very pleasing singer, hitherto unheard here, was introduced to Victoria last night, when Madame Norma Smythe, a well-known artist of Saskatoon, sang two groups in connection with Stanley Bulley's organ recital at Christ Church Cathedral. In combination, these two gave a beautiful programme which had a commendable balance of the classical and modern type of composition.

The major part of the recital fell to Mr. Bulley, who has never played better. He particularly excelled himself in his impressive performance of the Bach prelude and fugue in B minor, a magnificent work in itself, and interpreted with a fine sense of its magnitude and noble perspective. He has developed his technique considerably during the past year, and disclosed unsuspected tonal resources in the instrument in playing this great composition, the "Franck Choral in A minor," and the Liszt "Fantasia and Fugue on the name of Bach." In the first-mentioned he had some difficulty and important pedal passages as well as the intricate playing on the manuals in the profusely ornamented passages of the prelude, and showed authority and style in the use of both. The full resources of the organ were shown in the opening and closing parts of the Franck chorsle, another brilliant work; and the impressive Lisst tone-poem for the organ, with which the recital ended, had appropriate weight and brilliance to make a good climax to a programme of such significant compositions.

MADAME NORMA SMYTHE

Madame Norma Smythe's voice is a clear, high treble with the impersonal, unemotional quality of a boy's, of good carrying quality, and easily manipulated. She sings with taste and unaffected style, and preserved the desired atmosphere in Handel's elaborate classicism, "Rejoice Greatly," as well as Haydn's less florid "In Verdure Clad."

The more difficult intervals and phrasing of Bach's "I Follow Thee, Also," and "Dissolve, O My Heart, Into Torrents of Weeping," revealed the experienced singer with a splendid breath control and sure sense of pitch.

In the group of modern compositions for the organ, the most effective were Stravinsky's "Berceuse and Finale from L'oiseau de Feu," and Rowley's "Mood Fantasy."

FLOODS DESTROY FARMERS' CATTLE

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Sept. 1 (CP).—Farmers in the Wairapa district of the North Island are in a serious plight as the result of floods, which have killed hundreds of cattle, sheep and lambs.

Although the floods are now subsided, pastures in many places are covered with silt to a depth of eighteen inches, making it impossible to work the farms this year. During the height of the flood floating trees became entangled in telegraph wires and the debris was cleared by men linked together with ropes.

One farmer lost 100 bullocks, the animals being piled in heaps among the wreckage. Some bullocks were even found hanging from trees.

RAILWAY EMPLOYEES GOING BACK TO WORK

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—More than 2,000 employees in the locomotive and car repair shops of the Reading Company will resume work soon for a period of several months, it is announced by Charles H. Ewing, president of the railroad.

President Ewing gave "gradual improvement in business conditions" as the reason for starting repairs on 3,800 cars and seventy-eight locomotives.

REMANDED FOR SENTENCE

VANCOUVER, Sept. 1 (CP). — William McIlbride and William Richardson, who pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of counterfeiting, were remanded until September 7 for sentence when they made their second appearance in police court today.

HIGHEST WHEAT YIELD

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Sept. 1 (CP).—To Gus Auch, of Barrhill district, farming irrigated land, goes the palm for the highest wheat yield reported in Southern Alberta. His crop on an eighteen-acre field averaged better than sixty-five bushels per acre.

END TWO-YEAR VIGIL

MOSCOW, Sept. 1.—Four Soviet scientists have ended a lonely two-year vigil in the bleak Arctic wastes of Northernland, during which their only contact with civilization was by radio. They have been relieved by four other observers, one of them a woman.

A committee consisting of representatives of the Anglican, Baptist, Presbyterian and United Churches has, during the past months, held a series of conferences as to the advisability of inaugurating a simultaneous movement throughout Canada for a evangelization of Canadian life. The movement will begin with a call to repentance and will aim at bringing about the evangelization alike of the individual, the community and the nation. The matter will be presented to the various church governing bodies.

Making an attractive and colorful play in the famous open-air Quarry Theatre at Mirfield, England, the pathetic yet humorous story of fourteenth-century monastic life, "The Gathering of Brother Hilarius," was presented recently to an audience of nearly seven thousand, collected from all parts of England. The performance was preceded by a thanksgiving service at which the Bishop of Mirfield and the Superior of the Mirfield Community (Rev. E. K. Talbot) gave addresses, and the Bishop blessed the vast assembly on the lawn.

Railwaymen Will Soon Be Working

FORT WILLIAM, Sept. 1.—All railwaymen on seniority lists in Western Canada probably will be working within a short time due to the heavy movement of grain that is in sight, Senator James Murdock, vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, declared on his arrival here.

The Senator said there was a considerable spirit of optimism and enthusiasm in the West. He had traveled to the Pacific Coast and back and crops looked splendid, he said.

TO SIGN TREATY WITH NEW STATE

Pact Will Give Japan Right to Station Troops Through Manchukuo

TOKIO, Sept. 2.—The Foreign Office announced today that a basic treaty between the Manchurian State of Manchukvo and Japan would be signed soon to become effective before September 15. The agreement will provide a defensive alliance between the two nations.

Under the pact, Japan will be given the right to station troops throughout Manchukuo. Japan will undertake both the internal and external denfence of Manchukuo under the treaty, which also will guarantee mutual respect for territorial soverignty.

When the document is signed, probably on the very day it is to become effective, full diplomatic recognition of Manchukuo will automatically come about. The treaty will be communicated to the principal foreign powers before it is signed. The foreign office said there were no "secret clauses."

Building Total At High Figure

VANCOUVER, Sept. 1 (CP). — Issuance of several large building permits in Greater Vancouver in August brought the monthly building total to a higher figure than has been reached in any month of this year, surpassing the total for August of 1931.

In Vancouver City, permits for two grain elevators and an armory brought the monthly total to $633,820, against $571,530 for August, 1931. Burnaby's total was swelled by a $186,000 permit for the Shell Oil Company's plant.

Transportation Report Is Ready

OTTAWA, Sept. 1 (CP).—The report of the Royal Commission on Transportation will be ready for submission to the Government the latter part of next week. As many as possible of the commissioners, headed by Mr. Justice Duff, will attend a meeting at which the report will be signed, and the signature of any commissioner who may be unable to attend the final meeting will be obtained earlier. The members of the commission will likely wait on Premier R. B. Bennett and members of the Cabinet and formally present the report.

RESCUED BY FREIGHTER

SEATTLE, Sept. 1.—Two brothers, Webster B. Anderson, twenty-three, and Roy, eighteen, were picked up by a passing freighter on Puget Sound early today after they had been adrift for nearly twelve hours in a disabled motorboat, which was filling with water. With their improvised flares used up, they were finally sighted by the lookout on the San Felipe.

REACHES CITY LATE TONIGHT

Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister and Party to Arrive From Mainland

Rt. Hon. Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, O.B.E., M.C., M.P., Secretary of State for the Colonies in the British Ministry, will reach Victoria from the Mainland on the 11:40 o'clock steamer tonight. He will spend a few days at the Empress Hotel.

In company with him are several others who have been attending the Economic Conference at Ottawa, including J. P. L. Thomas, M.P., private secretary to the Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs, and Captain T. L. Dugdale, private secretary to the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Geoffrey Lloyd, M.P., private secretary to the Lord President of the Council, and Viscount Hinchingbrooke, private secretary to Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, are also in the party.

Remands Two Youths On Traffic Charge

Two youths, charged with driving their autos to the common danger, appeared before Police Magistrate Jay in the City Police Court yesterday morning and were both remanded to next Tuesday morning for hearing. Arthur G. Maynard was charged with driving to the common danger on Quadra Street and Lawrence Mallek was charged with a similar offence on Fort Street. Both youths pleaded not guilty.

ECLIPSE TOTAL BAG IS VARIED

Important Radio Discovery Made by Observers of Solar Phenomenon

BOSTON, Sept. 1 (AP).—One important radio discovery, several new scientific feats and some queer human experiences summed up today the accomplishments of the total eclipse expeditions.

Clouds completely ruined the work of more than half the largest expeditions, but a few had perfect views.

Two persons were reported so frightened at Island Pond, in Vermont, as to require medical attention.

The "cows came home" for milking at a number of farms. Flocks of birds got wildly excited, then calmed down and dived from sight, evidently putting up, bird fashion, for the night.

The radio discovery throws new light on the invisible layer of electrified air—the Kennelly-Heavyside layer, which reflects radio waves back to earth. As the sun passed completely from sight, radio reception on special setups changed abruptly to sunset conditions.

When the sun reappeared, the radio reception changed back to daytime conditions, as it does at sunrise.

COURT FREES SUE SUN POY

Vancouver Chinese Wins Habeas Corpus After Months Before Courts

Sue Sun Poy, Vancouver Chinese, detained by the Dominion immigration authorities for deportation, was released on a writ of habeas corpus issued out of Supreme Court here, yesterday, by Mr. Justice Murphy, following a long argument by counsel in chambers.

Mr. Justice Murphy held that the Court of Inquiry had exceeded its powers under the Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act in reconvening a sitting of the court in an effort to correct something that had been overlooked in the original inquiry, and remarked: "If this was to be allowed, what would it lead to in criminal law?"

ORDER SET ASIDE

The case of Sue Sun Poy has been before the British Columbia courts since last February, and the victory yesterday for C. H. O'Halloran, Sue Sun Poy's counsel, ended the long litigation. The Supreme Court last February denied Sue Sun Poy a writ of habeas corpus, and Mr. O'Halloran carried the case to the Appeal Court of British Columbia, which court set aside the order of deportation. The judgment of the Appeal Court gave Sue Sun Poy temporary liberty, but he was re-arrested by the immigration authorities, a court of inquiry convened, and the finding of the inquiry court brought down; but the court of inquiry failed to make a deportation order, leaving that to the Governor-in-Council. The Governor has never issued a deportation order, it was stated in court.

It was shown at the hearing before Mr. Justice Murphy that immediately Mr. O'Halloran had taken out habeas corpus, a court of inquiry was reconvened, and the order made. Mr. O'Halloran made this the basis of his writ of habeas corpus heard and issued yesterday.

BOARD'S JURISDICTION

Mr. Justice Murphy held that a quasi-judicial body could not proceed in that fashion. "The Court of Inquiry had no right to reconvene to do something that it should have done in session. I do not consider that the first court of inquiry was merely adjourned, but I believe the court had concluded the work it set out to do, and it was only after the authorities found that habeas corpus was out that it reconvened to make the order it had neglected to make in the first instance. I will have to direct that a writ issue in this instance."

W. C. Moresby, K.C., appeared for the immigration authorities, and vigorously opposed the issuance of the writ.

High Court To Rule on Opium Case

Whether a court must take cognizance of the finding of opium dross as evidence to warrant a conviction of having opium in possession, is a question that will have to be decided by the British Columbia Court of Appeal.

When Chan Sam, Chinese, was before Judge Peter S. Lampman in County Court, here, in July, on a charge of being in possession of opium, the evidence showed that the police did not find opium actually in the room occupied by the accused, but they found a quantity of dross.

Dross was defined under the Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act as the residue of "opium smoked." There was no evidence that the dross found in the accused's room was the residue of "opium smoked," and Judge Lampman found the accused not guilty. J. B. Clearihue appeared as counsel for Chan Sam, and R. A. Wootton appeared for the Crown.

Mr. Wootton announced yesterday he would appeal the decision of the County Court judge.

START CONSTRUCTION ON NEW MORTUARY FOR SANDS FUNERAL CO.

Work has been commenced by R. S. Trew, contractor, on the new Sands Funeral Home, at the intersection of Quadra and North Park Streets, to cost approximately $12,500. A building permit has been issued for the construction of the building, which is to be one and a half stories of frame and stucco. The original plans called for a brick structure.

When completed, the new building will contain two chapels, rest rooms, mortuary and arcade, and is designed to give the greatest privacy for funerals.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

Thousands who have itching, bleeding or protruding piles have not yet learned how quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause.

Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To get rid of Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1,000 patients with success in over 900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money back guarantee.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Macfarlane and Vancouver Drug stores and all good druggists invite you to try HEM-ROID tablets with guarantee of money refunded if they do not end your Pile misery

That Body of Yours

THE PHYSICAL EXAMINATION OF YOUR YOUNGSTER AT SCHOOL

You may be sending a youngster to school for the first time, and as he or she always has had good care, you are surprised to receive a note from the school doctor or school nurse suggesting that the youngster requires glasses, that his hearing is poor, that he needs tonsils or adenoids removed, or that he should be inoculated against diphtheria, scarlet fever and smallpox, or that certain teeth need attention. The school authorities also ask permission to see if your youngster's spine is straight, which means removing the clothing.

Instead of becoming indignant over the note from the school, just think the matter over carefully for a few minutes.

The school authorities are acting under the health authorities. The health authorities know more about the care of children and the prevention of disease than you. They have in mind only the safety and health of your youngster and of all the other youngsters also.

There really is or is not a need for attention to the eyes, ears, nose, throat, teeth and spine. Inoculation against children's diseases is either wise or unwise. Just try to think what your city or town would be like, what the health of its people would be, if there were no departments of health. Neglected eyes, hearing, teeth, tonsils and other conditions may interfere with the children's progress at school, may mean many days absence, and may be the forerunner of serious ailments in adult life. A spine with a slight curvature can be readily corrected when the child is young, but becomes increasingly difficult if not impossible as the child grows older.

In regard to inoculations against children's diseases, you have only to use your own common sense as you see how these dread ailments are now being stamped out in communities where the system of inoculation is being carried out thoroughly.

You are actually paying taxes as a tenant or an owner of property to pay for this department of health. Why not, then, be thankful that you are getting all this information and much service in return for the taxes you pay.

If you have any doubt about what to do in the matter, consult your family doctor. He is in a position to give you the best advice, as he will not stand in the way of any of the health needs of your youngster.

TRENCHING ON CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS

The character of the judgment brought to bear on the findings of the Kidd Committee is illustrated by the change of heart experienced in its recommendation affecting the Legislative Assembly. In the first draft of its report presented to the Provincial Government the recommendation was made that for the next five years "the Legislative Assembly consist of fourteen members, each representing a Dominion electoral riding." The statement was made that "not only will a small House of fourteen members tend to simplify the whole course of legislative procedure, but it will, in our opinion, eliminate party politics." The absurdity of the foregoing recommendation was brought to the attention of the committee, and it doubled the number of members which it now proposes as fitting as a personnel for the Legislative Assembly.

The Kidd Committee was a footloose board of investigation according to the tenor of its report. It was not bound by the terms of the letter from Dr. S. F. Tolmie sanctioning the inquiry. In that letter the Government offered every assistance to the Kidd Committee, "to ascertain and report to the Government, at as early a date as possible, the annual revenue that can reasonably be anticipated, bearing in mind the requirements of essential provincial services as well as the burdens already borne by the industries of this province, and the paramount necessity of preserving, and, if possible, extending the capacity of such industries to maintain as large a population as possible." That was the scope defined for the committee. It did not adhere to it. The report discusses the virtues of constitutional government, the powers of the Lieutenant-Governor, makes strictures on party politics, attempts to define not only what should be the composition of the Legislative Assembly, but of the Government itself. In fact, it has wandered far afield from the limits set by the Government, a privilege which a Royal Commission, constituted by authority of the Crown, would never have had power to do. In these matters, therefore, a percentage of the report merely expresses personal opinions and pious hopes, such as might have been expressed by any one of thousands of our citizens.

The Kidd Committee exceeded its rights in attempting to interfere, by recommendation, with the composition of the Cabinet and the Legislative Assembly, just as it exceeded its rights in other directions. It had not the powers of a Royal Commission, but it may be assumed that it must have been bound by the limitations imposed on such a body. For the information of all those who may be disposed to take the findings in the Kidd Report with greater seriousness than they warrant, it is well to bring to mind the constitutional responsibility of the elected representatives of the people. In commissions of inquiry, relative to matters affecting government, there can only be appointed by the Crown or by the head of any department of state, "to examine into a particular grievance, or alleged defect in the administration of a public department, or to collect information on any important public question, and advise the Crown upon the same." Todd's Parliamentary Government makes the following clear:

"It would be unconstitutional to refer to a royal commission, subjects which are connected with the elementary duties of the executive government, and with its relation to Parliament; or to investigate a grievance which arises out of a particular decision of Parliament, on a given question; or to appoint a commission with a view to evade the responsibility of ministers in any matter; or to do the work of existing departments of state, which possess all needful facilities for obtaining information upon questions of detail, and which are directly responsible to Parliament; or to inquire into acts of misconduct which may have been committed by a judge, or a minister of state, which should be investigated by the House of Commons, or into the conduct of persons charged with criminal offences, except they be officers of the Crown, and the right of inquiry into their conduct by commission is expressly derived from an Act of Parliament. Neither shall a commission be appointed unless the Government is prepared to give definite instructions to the commissioners. A commission of inquiry shall be limited in its operations to obtaining information, and suggesting the points to which it might be expedient that legislative or executive action should be directed. No commission should be invited to enter upon any question of policy, lest it should trench upon the proper limits of ministerial responsibility, and upon ground which belongs to Parliament."

BULWARK AGAINST SOVIET ADVANCE

The report of the commission appointed by the League of Nations to inquire into conditions in Manchuria, with a view to affording recommendations for a course of action to be pursued arising out of the dispute between Japan and China, is expected momentarily. The findings have been delayed through the illness of the Earl of Lytton, the chairman. What steps, if any, will be taken by the League, following the report, is a matter of conjecture. The delay in publication, and the development of Japanese plans in Manchuria in the interim, will make it all the harder for the Powers to exert their influence to restore in the province a government subservient to Nanking.

In the meantime, Mr. Yosuke Matsuoka, who will probably be Japan's next delegate to the League of Nations, has been making a tour of Manchuria. In the course of his travels he has made statements which indicate what his attitude is. Japan in Manchuria he regards as a bulwark against a Soviet advance in Asia. In discussing the Soviet's plans he expresses the belief that the completion of the Novosibirsk-Tashkent Railway threatens both Japan and India. The anti-Japanese boycott he puts down to anti-foreign hatred. China, from his observations, is in a state of chaos. He foresees "an appalling cataclysm" as the result of the children of a quarter of the human race being trained to hate Japan. He has no doubts whatever about the righteousness of Japan's cause. It is his intention to attend Geneva with the purpose of explaining the Far East, and, in the consideration of the subject when the Lytton report is published, he counsels "equanimity, freedom from prejudice and confidence in the disinterested fair-mindedness of the League." There is one note of warning, however, in his statement on this subject. It is to the effect that failure at Geneva to reach an understanding, on what he describes as "the century's most vital question," would force Japan to "bid farewell to Geneva."

CAPITAL LEAVING IRELAND

One result of the policies being pursued by Mr. de Valera in his governance of the Irish Free State is that capital is leaving the country. The reports of Irish banking for the last half year show a reduction of some 18 per cent in aggregate earnings. It is noted that holders of shares in Free State banking organizations are selling them. Many who have deposits and current accounts in the Irish banks are transferring their money to Britain. One observer says that, because of the present condition of the agricultural situation, "the Irish farmers, upon whom the Irish Free State banking organizations largely depend and whom they finance in many respects, are now being placed through the fall in prices in such a position that they will not be able to pay their loans to the banks." The situation is emphasized by the admission of Mr. de Valera that the foreign markets he has talked so much about for Irish produce are "vanishing into thin air."

It is not only bank stock in Ireland that is being sold and the proceeds transferred to England. There is a sale of stocks in Irish railways and other industrial securities also in progress. Mr. de Valera is blind to what is going on, inasmuch as he is doing little or nothing to keep capital at home. Perhaps he is comforted by the fact that in certain directions there have been increases in deposits in the banks due to the transfer of funds from the United States. Some of these funds, however, appear to be the property of the Irish Republican Party and of its ally the Clan-na-Gael.

The British Dental Association, as a body and individually, has decided not to support the proposed competition for a gold medal and $1,000 prize for experiments on dogs' teeth. Belgian dentists also are not competing for this prize, and the Belgian Society is doing all it can to prevent such competition throughout Europe. For this result much credit is due to the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

IRELAND

I am the oldest of things that are:
For thirty rivers I have been the bridge;
With Cochulain I stood upon the ridge
Of battle, and with Maeve I wept afar.
I fought with Finn upon the yellow sands;
With three wild swans I fled across the fen;
After the centuries I feel again
The blood of Usna's sons upon my hands.
I wandered with Oisin three ages long,
Groping among the shadows. I have seen
All. There is nothing that I have not been.
Nothing that is not native to my song.
I touch my harp, and straightway, on its strings
Move the dim fingers of forgotten kings.

—Marion Grubb, in The Commonweal.

AUSTRALIA'S RECOVERY

During the eight years to June, 1930, the net excess of imports over exports was sixty-two millions. That is to say, during three years we not only did not pay anything towards our overseas interest; we slipped sixty-two millions still farther back. That we should this year be able not only to pay all our interest, but put by eight or nine millions as well is a performance to which we are surely entitled to, at least, call the world's attention. It is true that we have had the benefit of good seasons, and cannot expect them to go on for ever. Neither, on the other hand, can we reasonably expect present low prices to last for ever. While they do last our position is far from secure; a bad year would reduce our exports by much more than our present surplus of eight or nine millions.—Sydney Bulletin.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

O yet we trust that somehow good
Will be the final goal of ill.
—Tennyson.

Everybody knew before the Kidd Committee issued its extremely dictatorial and highly controversial report that provincial governments had been too prodigal in their expenditures; but we knew that prodigality was not an exclusive vice of governments of British Columbia. For many years there has not been a government in Canada nor in most parts of the world that has not been extravagant in its expenditures. The various departments of all governments, beginning with governments of municipalities and ending with governments higher up, have been almost wantonly prodigal in their expenditures as governments.

For the last twenty years there has arisen from all legislative chambers, from municipal council halls, and from school board offices, voices vociferously demanding measures for "broadening the basis of taxation." After listening in a somewhat critical state of mind to those vociferous voices demanding in the name of advanced democracy increases of taxation and vaster expenditures upon all kinds of social services, we ventured to suggest that there might be a limit to the ultimate breadth of the basis of taxation and to the capacity of the taxpayers to carry the increasing load of taxation. But neither in the legislative halls nor in the council chambers was any heed paid to our warning suggestions. The world appeared to be on the crest of a wave of prosperity and recked not that there might be a trough of depression yawning to engulf prosperity and create a slump in business.

While sailing along serenely on the crest of the wave legislators of all denominations, from the highest to the lowest, raised their salaries (which they euphemistically called indemnities), and increased the high cost of government by multiplying departments of government, the number of officers in those departments and the salaries of those servants of the people, thus confirming the judgment of one of the wise men of ancient days that democratic forms of government would prove the most expensive of all forms of government.

At the same time, and notwithstanding the report of the Kidd Committee, the fault is not the fault of any system of government; it is the fault of the people who dictate to governments. In the case of British Columbia, the fault is chiefly the fault of the people of Vancouver, who were most vociferous and most dogmatic in their demands for expenditures. If it had not been for the imperative demands of the people of Vancouver there would have been no P.G.E. Railway hanging like a millstone upon the neck of the province and threatening to sink it with a load of debt. The provincial university also was a pet child of the city of Vancouver, illegitimately begotten and reared in folly, as circumstances have demonstrated. And now the Kidd Committee, almost exclusively a Vancouver institution, demands that its pet children be disinherited and thrust forth helpless upon an unfeeling world.

There are weaknesses in all forms of government, but all weaknesses are not inherent in party forms of government. It was because of defects in what is called non-party forms of government that a party system of government was established in British Columbia. No governments can be even approximately satisfactory to the people governed without discipline and order. The non-party system has been tried in other provinces and has made a worse mess of the business of government and administration than the so-called party system ever did at its worst.

The principal charge laid against the party system is that it develops into an ignoble strife for power between the ins and the outs. But that will be precisely the result under any form of government: The ins will try to stay in and the outs will strive to get in, and thus the party system will prevail, and the ills we try to avoid will be aggravated and accentuated because of the absence of discipline and the presence of disorder. We cannot achieve good government by changing the names of the parties elected to govern.

For generations there has been good and efficient government in Great Britain under party government, because government there has not been static but evolutionary and progressive—and, whatever may be said to the contrary, the party system of government still prevails in Great Britain, although the elements in it are somewhat mixed politically, like the elements in human nature. For more than twenty years Germany enjoyed stable government, whatever the nature of the elements of which it was composed, and during that time Germany was one of the most prosperous and progressive nations in the world. Today there is complete political and social chaos in Germany, and there may be another conflagration in Europe because there are as many parties in the German legislature as you can count on the fingers of your two hands. Before the sensational advent of Mussolini Italy was threatened with a revolution because of a multiplicity of political parties. The dictator, whatever may be thought of his methods, restored order in Italy by forcibly abolishing parties which advocated disorder and establishing one political party which was based upon the principles of law and order as the one hope of the nation. Thus the fact has been established that government on strictly democratic principles cannot be successfully carried on except upon a party basis. Even if the Kidd Committee itself were entrusted with the delicate job of governing British Columbia, it would still be a party government—and we are not sure that in the matter of governing itself Vancouver has set a shining example to the rest of the province.

NEW JOYS

New joys will bloom while years go by,
As roses greet the smiling sky
With every glad, recurrent June,
And linnets pipe their happy tune.

New joys will stretch their tendrils out
To creep and climb and twine about
Our lives, till all is fair and bright,
While Wintry doubts and fears take flight.

New joys! Then yield to no dismay
When these now cherished pass away,
For all things change and all are fleet,
Most evanescent are most sweet.

Ah, trust the future; it will bring
Glad days that shine and hours that sing.
Days even as dear and prized as these
That now weave glowing tapestries!

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

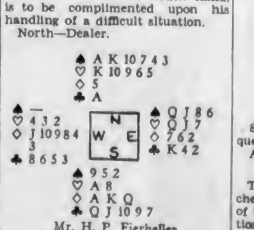

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

THE GAMBIT IN BRIDGE

Devotees of chess use the word "gambit" to designate a play which involves the deliberate giving up of a pawn for position or to gain time for an attack. Some of the most brilliant games of chess on record have developed from various forms of the gambit.

In bridge, the occasion quite frequently arises for the use of similar tactics, and the term "gambit" might appropriately be applied to the play involving the sacrifice of a ranking card in order to achieve the desired result. As Mr. John W. Jacobson, of Toronto, Ontario, points out, the recognition of such a situation before it is too late is the mark of a fine player, and the hand below, which was played recently in Toronto, exemplifies a typical bridge gambit and shows as well a fine application of the most brilliant of all plays, the Vienna coup. It is quite rare for one hand to afford the opportunity for two such fine coups, and Mr. H. P. Fierheller, who held the South hand, is to be complimented upon his handling of a difficult situation.

North—Dealer.

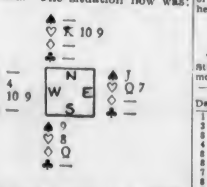

Mr. H. P. Fierheller

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
3♣	Pass	1♠	Pass
4NT	Pass	3♡	Pass
6♠	Pass	5♣	Pass
6NT	Pass	Pass	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

The bidding, no doubt, was slightly optimistic, in view of South's club holding, yet the slam try cannot be severely criticized after North's bid of three hearts. East's double of the bid of six spades was a timely warning of two probable spade tricks, and South's switch to no trump was thus clearly indicated.

The opening lead was the diamond knave, and when the dummy went down, the outlook for eleven tricks was extremely bright, but the twelfth trick appeared very uncertain. Obviously the club suit had to be established and the king allowed to make, as it was self-evident that East held a guard in spades. Mr. Fierheller went to work on this assumption and took two rounds of diamonds, discarding from the dummy and club ace. The club queen was then led, which East won with the king. Here East could have defeated the contract by playing the heart queen, but to East the spade queen appeared just as promising, and that unfortunate choice was made. South now realized that his one chance for making the slam was for East to hold both the queen and knave of hearts, so the ace and king of spades were played from the dummy, then Mr. Fierheller re-entered his own hand with the ace of hearts and followed with the four winning clubs, on which all the spades in the dummy hand were discarded. The situation now was:

South now played the diamond queen, and East was helpless.

A very well played hand indeed.

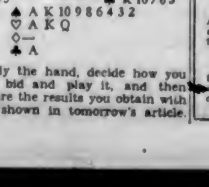

TODAY'S POINTER

The term "gambit," used in chess has also its place in the game of bridge. A gambit may risk additional loss, but if it is the only method of making the contract, it should be offered.

TOMORROW'S HAND

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

South—Dealer.
North and South vulnerable.

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

TO INVESTIGATE CLAIM PAYMENTS

Judge Declines to Give Order Until Position of Claimant Is Determined

Payment to parents of money secured in damage actions settled out of court in which the person injured was suing in the name of parents, or "next friend," without proper judicial investigation of the circumstances, will not be permitted to continue in Supreme Court here, Mr. Justice Murphy decreed in chambers yesterday.

In this instance a case had been set down for trial and solicitor for the plaintiffs advised the court that a settlement had been reached and requested an order to conform. Mr. Justice Murphy asked to whom the money was to be paid and was informed it was to be paid to the parents of the "infant." Mr. Justice Murphy refused to consider the application and appointed H. W. R. Moore to represent the court to inquire into the circumstances.

"The courts have had trouble in the past where money has been paid to parents and the parties entitled to receive it have had to apply to the court," Mr. Justice Murphy remarked.

ROTARIANS HEAR FRANK PAULDING

Y.M.C.A. Secretary Addresses Club Men at Luncheon on "Seven Wonders of World"

Speaking upon the "Seven Wonders of the World," Frank Paulding, general secretary of the Victoria Y.M.C.A., outlined the swing in the trend of thought which today is making men realize more than ever before that the abstract things in life are far more important than the concrete, and that the work of men's hands lives only for today, while the intangible things accomplished are eternal.

Mr. Paulding showed how the seven concrete wonders of the old world, built to stand forever, were fast disappearing, while the abstract contributions of the ancients, such as the philosophy of the Greeks, the Roman laws and the religion of the Hebrews still played a prominent part in the existence of the human race.

THE SEVEN WONDERS

The seven wonders of the modern world, the speaker stated, consist of wireless, automotive power, aviation, radium, anesthetics, spectrum analysis and ultra violet rays, but the marvels of the future will be composed of love, service, recreation, liberation of intelligence, application of psychology, application of study of humanity and international good will.

"The success of a service club should be figured by the intangible things it builds," he concluded, "for we should construct not for the moment, but for the days to come."

INTRODUCED SPEAKER

John Grant introduced the speaker, giving a brief resume of the latter's career, both as a service club worker and as a public speaker.

During the business part of the luncheon two visiting Rotarians, Percy Knowles, of Penticton, and Arthur Feli, of Vancouver, were introduced to the members, while A. P. Dawes was admitted to membership in the local club and was presented with the club button by Samuel Armstrong, the badge being donated by Charles [illegible], one of the pioneer members of the local group. Community singing was lead by Robert Webb.

DEDICATED TO ANIMALS

Sir,—It is edifying to learn that there is a church in London which is a recognized centre for the welfare and protection of animals. When I was attending an animal protection conference in Philadelphia in 1926, which had been organized by the American Anti-vivisection Society, one of the delegates was the Rev. Basil Bourchier, who had come specially from work in Central America to attend and make an address.

The Rev. Bourchier's sympathy for animals is known to all animal workers and he appears on many public platforms on their behalf. He is the rector of St. Anne's, Soho, London. Not only are special services held in this church for animals, but he has just instituted an "Animals' Corner" near the chancel. This corner is lighted by a specially-designed window depicting various animals, and it has recently been unveiled. Animal sympathizers in the congregation are bearing the cost.

"The idea of this window," said the rector, "is that we owe a tremendous debt to dumb creatures, and this church has become a recognized centre for all that appertains to the welfare and protection of God's dumb and defenceless creatures. We pray that this window may be an abiding memorial, not only to London, but to the whole world, that God's creatures have not only their duties but their rights. It will perhaps prove the best advertisement we could have for the cause for which so many of us stand."

Animal lovers from all parts of London attended the opening ceremony and we, in this distant corner of the Empire, can appreciate the worthy efforts of a sincere co-worker. The Rev. Basil Bourchier has been an honorary member of the Antivivisection Society in Victoria since its inception in 1921.

The time given is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 18.8 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Songhees drydock add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

Governor-General To Go Fishing in Qualicum Waters

His Excellency the Governor-General and Countess Bessborough and members of the Governor's official family, spent yesterday amid the natural beauty of Up-Island points, having left Victoria yesterday morning for Nanaimo, Duncan and Ladysmith to receive civic welcomes and to meet the people of those centres.

After a pleasant day, which included motor drives through some of the scenic highways for which the Island is noted, the viceregal party was back at Qualicum in time for dinner.

Today's programme is one that is very much to the liking of His Excellency and possibly to Her Excellency too. They plan to spend the whole day fishing in the streams of the Qualicum district. With fine weather, His Excellency should enjoy the outing, as every preparation has been made for the comfort of the party during the stay. It is the first break in the round of functions that have been pressed upon the distinguished visitors since they arrived on the Pacific Coast.

The party is scheduled to return to Victoria tomorrow morning to spend Saturday in the city and to attend to a number of week-end engagements.

Taxpayers Boost Year's Payments To Claim Rebate

The final day on which taxpayers could take advantage of a rebate under the prepayment of taxes scheme expired at 5 o'clock yesterday, and City Treasurer Edwin C. Smith stated that the collections yesterday had been exceedingly heavy. Figures of yesterday's collections had not been completely tabulated at the close of business.

Up to Wednesday night approximately one-third of the city's collectable taxes had been paid into the treasury, amounting to $655,990.01. The prepaid rebate yesterday amounted to one-half of 1 per cent on the tax bills, interest being allowed at 6 per cent until September 30. For the next month taxes are due and payable in full and on October 2 the first penalty of 2 per cent will go into effect on all tax accounts outstanding at that date.

LAST RITES TOMORROW

The funeral service will be held on Saturday, at 10:30 a.m., for Roger Brian Cawley, Rev. H. M. Boulton will officiate. Interment will be made at Royal Oak Burial Park.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of September 2, 1882)

Improvements—The new three-story brick building for On Hing on Pimard Street is now well under way. Samuel Gray has the contract and it is expected that the work will be completed in two months. The building will house a cigar factory.

Alaska Excursion—Special arrangements are being made for an excursion to Alaska. The largest and most up-to-date vessel on the Coast has been procured and nothing has been spared to make the voyage one long to be remembered by those fortunate enough to participate in the outing.

Shin Wreckers—Detectives have at last cleared up the mystery surrounding the wholesale plunderings of cargoes destined to San Francisco from Seattle, it will be remembered that no sooner had the vessels put to sea than certain parts of the cargo commenced to disappear. The culprits have been arrested.

Careless Driving Will Be Lessened By New Regulation

Financial Responsibility Clauses of Motor Vehicles Act Are Now in Force in British Columbia, Dealing With Insurance

NO guns boomed and no banners were flown, but yesternay marked a significant change in motor traffic history in British Columbia, the initial birthday of the financial responsibility clauses in the Motor Vehicles Act, designed to put irresponsible drivers off the road and to promote safe, sane driving.

From now on drivers and owners of vehicles involved in criminal misdemeanors will be held fully culpable under the new law, and their licences revoked, unless they comply with the terms of the new regulations. Drivers and owners who fail to satisfy civil claims for damages will be equally liable to the operation of the act.

SUBJECT TO CONTROL

Operators or owners of cars involved in accidents, where the damage done exceeds $25; or where convicted of speeding, failure to return to the scene of a mishap, or for driving without a licence, may have their licence removed, unless they are covered as to damages by liability insurance. Proof of such insurance, applying after September 1, will be accepted in the form of certificates filed with the commissioner of police.

In respect to civil claims, where death, injury or damage of over $100 in value are left unsatisfied, licences can also be removed, except in the case of car operators whose financial responsibility is admitted, either by deposit of insurance certificates or securities to an equivalent value. Certificates of insurance, taken out after August 31, only, are concerned.

ONE ACCIDENT ALLOWED

Stripped of its technicalities, the operation of the new law means that all operators of cars will be given a first accident or misdemeanor before bringing themselves within the regulatory terms of the statute. If they elect to insure against such mishaps, and resulting claims or damages, they can avert automatic removal of their licences, subject to full satisfaction being given in respect to such claims.

On its civil side, the new section of the law will insure that life and property damage will be less at risk than heretofore, in regard to lack of financial responsibility which so often negatives civil remedies at law for those justly aggrieved.

On its criminal side, the law will insure far greater means of control by the authorities in cases usually termed misdemeanors, yet ranging from the operations of hit-and-run drivers, to driving at excessive speeds or in other dangerous ways.

SAFETY ON HIGHWAYS

The chief purport of the law is to put a premium on careful driving, and a penalty on careless driving; to the end that motor traffic as a whole will advance to a higher plane than heretofore. Nearly all provinces in Canada now have similar laws in operation; while insurance companies have prepared uniform policies in each area.

The law is not compulsory insurance, as the principle of a first accident fully applies; but the insured driver will have a material benefit over his uninsured neighbor.

With a special filing system ready, the Provincial Police have opened a new unit of the motor licence branch to take care of registrations under the act. The office is in the former Drill Hall, on Menzies Street, headquarters of the force.

SON OF LOCAL MINISTER DIES

John Gordon Switzer Passes Away Suddenly in Regina—Burial to Take Place in Vancouver

Word was received yesterday by Rev. J. C. Switzer, pastor of Centennial United Church, of the unexpected death in Regina of his son, John Gordon Switzer. The message stated that the body would be brought to Vancouver for interment.

The late Mr. Switzer spent his holidays here with his parents, and was present at the induction, on August 19, of his brother, Rev. Dr. Gerald Switzer, into the pastorate of Oak Bay United Church.

He was a graduate of the University of British Columbia and was manager of an automobile concern in Regina, to which city he had been recently transferred from Winnipeg. An active church worker, he was especially interested in young people's work. He was twenty-three years of age.

Report of Heather Day Is Considered

At the meeting of the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., held yesterday a standing vote of sympathy was passed with Mrs. Hannah Wall in the death of her husband, also with Mrs. W. J. Goepel in the death of her brother-in-law, Mr. Philip Goepel.

A special tribute of appreciation was rendered to Mrs. Walter Burton for her untiring efforts on Heather Day, crowning eighteen years of convenership of the chapter's commemoration of the departure of the first contingent. The regent, Mrs. R. B. McMicking, in speaking of the regiments with which the chapter has been connected during the past eighteen years, mentioned the 11th Machine Gun Corps, which was on active service all through the war and was attached to the Lady Douglas Chapter, also the 1st Motor Machine Gun Battalion, and the Borden Battery, Machine Gun Corps.

The final returns from Heather Day were reported by the treasurer, Mrs. James Shaw, being $157.47, and thanks were expressed to all who assisted the chapter in carrying out the sale of heather. Members were asked to attend the garden party at Mrs. Hebden Gillespie's home on Tuesday, September 6, in aid of the work of the Navy League.

Former Minister of Foreign Affairs

Children to Participate In Field Day

A lengthy programme of sports, which will include races and field games, will be presented by children under the supervision of playground directors at the Royal Athletic Park, commencing at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The event is sponsored by the parks committee of the City Council, and the following supervisors will be in charge for the day: Miss E. Wilby and H. Carstens, of Central Park, and Everett Raynor, Victoria West Park.

It is expected that Mayor David Leeming and aldermen of the city will attend and witness the sports. Musical selections will be offered by the Victoria Boys' Band and ice cream will be served free to children. There will be no admission charge.

Frenchwoman Will Give Lecture Here

Mme. Dreyfus-Barney, of Paris, a lecturer of experience and ability, who has made several journeys round the world to study various civilizations, will lecture in Victoria on the evening of Tuesday, September 27, under the auspices of the Local Council of Women. Her subject will be "Problems of the Cinematograph," which has been selected by the local committee from a group of interesting topics on which she is prepared to speak. She has made a special study of international questions, and after the Great War, during which she took an active part in hospital refugees' relief, she turned her activities to constructive efforts aimed at the better understanding between classes and peoples.

Mme. Dreyfus-Barney is a Knight of the Legion of Honor, vice-president of the disarmament committee of the women's international organizations, liaison officer of the International Council of Women to the International Institute of Intellectual Co-operation, president of the cinematograph and broadcasting committee of the International Council of Women, and treasurer of the international commission on the social and educational use of films and broadcasting.

JIMMY WALKER RESIGNS AS MAYOR OF NEW YORK; WILL SEEK VINDICATION

The hearing was to have been resumed tomorrow afternoon. Walker said the question had become this:

"Shall I permit myself to be lynched to satisfy prejudice on political ambition?"

Resigning to ask the voters for vindication on charges on which his removal had been asked, Walker stepped out of an office he had occupied since 1925.

COURTS MAY DECIDE

The question of whether he can run for re-election this year or must wait until the regular election of 1933 has not been definitely decided and may be given to the courts to determine.

Aldermanic President Joseph V. McKee automatically becomes mayor, but his tenure of office, like the question of when Walker may run for re-election, is not certain. He is also a Democrat.

McKee is a former judge, former Greek and Latin instructor and the holder of the degrees of B.A., M.A., LL.B. and LL.D.

HAS NOTHING TO SAY

ALBANY, N.Y., Sept. 1.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt said he had "nothing at all to say" when informed tonight of the resignation of Mayor James J. Walker of New York.

He heard with interest Walker's assertion that he had failed at the hearing before Mr. Roosevelt to receive "even the elementary rights guaranteed to any defendant in a court of law," and that he would leave his case to the judgment of the people of New York City.

Walker's act meant the end of the spectacular hearing in the New York State "hall of governors," where the mayor spent twelve days defending himself against the fifteen "conclusions" of Samuel Seabury.

WOULD REDUCE PENSION SCALE

Copy of a resolution passed by the Duncan City Council, urging the reduction of the scale for mothers' pensions and the immediate review of the conditions under which they are issued, with a view to restricting them to British subjects, was received and filed at a meeting of the Saanich Council last night.

CABINET WILL DECIDE POSTS

Choice of Relief Director and Supervisors in Province Pending

"No choice has yet been made as to a director of unemployment relief for British Columbia, and supervisors for municipal and unorganized areas," Hon. R. W. Bruhn stated last evening. "When a decision is made, it will be made by the Cabinet," he added.

While no Government announcement was made on the point, it is known that several names have been tentatively submitted in connection with the three posts which are to be created to give direct responsibility for all relief operations.

The director of relief would act as a single head of the system, responsible directly to the unemployment committee of the Cabinet, while one supervisor each is to be appointed to have charge of provincial relief in respect to municipalities and in unorganized districts.

The unofficial expectation is that when the appointments are made they will be found to be men independent of the Government, and chosen for their ability to handle what are realized to be extremely onerous duties.

Rigged Up Still In Hollow Tree

PRINCE RUPERT, Sept. 1.—B. Pateyama, Japanese, of Sunnyside, was arrested on a charge of running a still. Police state that they found his plant rigged up in a hollow tree, where they seized 120 gallons of mash. In order to avoid smoke being seen, the accused is said to have packed a gasoline stove between his house in Sunnyside and the tree. He is alleged by the police to have been selling liquor to Indians at $4 a bottle.

FUNERAL RITES HELD

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for Charles Grimwood. Rev. A. de B. Owen officiated. The following acted as pallbearers: J. C. Newberry, C. W. Newberry, R. L. Adamson and C. C. Pemberton. The remains were laid to rest in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

WAS BURIED YESTERDAY

The funeral service was held on Thursday afternoon for Frederick Lionel Butcher, Rev. E. W. P. Carter officiated in the presence of relatives and many friends. Interment was made at Royal Oak Burial Park, the following acting as pallbearers: C. Lewes, A. F. Grant, J. Wilson, J. R. Emery, R. G. Hale and F. C. Webber.

Sir Owen Cox, a member of the New South Wales Legislative Council for ten years, has died at Monte Carlo.

Your motor needs three vital energies. Now try a fuel that gives you all three.

You want power? Shell 3-energy offers you all the power you've ever got from so-called "power fuels"!

But you also want the fastest pick-up possible, which calls for an entirely different kind of energy—quick energy. Shell 3-energy provides it, too. You can feel your motor's quicker response to the throttle. And you notice that your car even starts better.

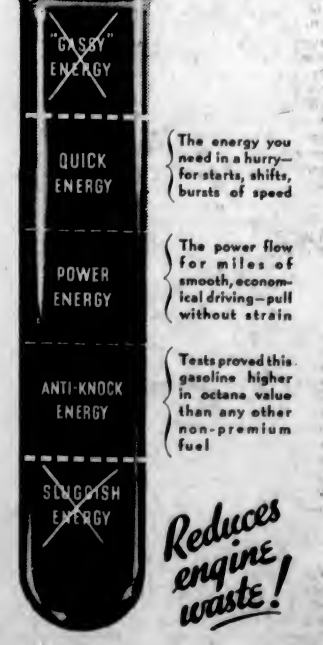

And regarding anti-knock

You get more than vague promises in Shell 3-energy. In test after test in the laboratory, 3-energy scored the highest anti-knock octane rating of all the non-premium fuels! You can prove this result on any hill. See how much farther you go without a sign of engine strain.

That's the reason for Shell's booming sales this summer. There's a difference in 3-energy that people can notice.

Try a tankful of it today at any yellow and red pump. Shell service stations and Shell dealers.

Shell service men seal every station tank when they fill it with gasoline. Only authorized persons may remove the seal. Thus you know what you are getting when you buy from a Shell pump.

TEN DAYS JAIL FOR INTOXICATED DRIVER

Charles Dodgshon was sentenced to ten days' imprisonment without the option of a fine when he pleaded guilty in the city police court yesterday morning to a charge of being intoxicated while in charge of an automobile. Dodgshon was arrested by Sergeant Benjamin Acreman at the intersection of Cook and Pembroke Streets. The sergeant told the court that Dodgshon's auto had struck a pole and that the accused was sitting in it and attempting to get it started. He said Dodgshon was under the influence of liquor and was not in fit condition to drive the auto.

PARIS STYLES

By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS—Gone are the armholes of the olden days when a sleeve had only to reach to the shoulder and circle around the arm in a neat seam. Now the sleeve never seems to know where it is going to end. It continues, in all events, partially into the back and front of the bodice, or ends in a bow at the throat, having wound itself around the neck a couple of times in the form of a stock collar.

Getting in and out of both day and evening things is more a matter of unwrapping and wrapping than of unhooking or hooking, buttoning or unbottoning, or even zipping or unzipping. Sticking your head through one loop and your arms through another is one manner of "getting in," while going in feet first and tying the frock around your throat and hitching a long, single strap snugly to the depth of the decolletage in the back is another.

Leather collars, belts and buttons trim many wool dresses, while such novelties as metal safety pins, monkey wrenches and screw turners see to it that necklines stay in place and belts do not flop open, besides being ornamental as well as useful.

GOODS ARE RECOVERED AND THREE ARRESTED

VANCOUVER, Sept. 1.—Detectives R. Knox and W. Fisk recovered a large quantity of stolen jewelry, clothing, firearms and personal effects Wednesday night and have arrested three men on charges connected with the goods.

Those arrested are Len Andrews and Roy Hollingshead, charged with retaining stolen property, and Ernest Rupert, charged with breaking and entering.

SEEK DECISION ON SETTLEMENT

B.C. Signatures Will Be Forwarded to Ottawa; Awaiting Reply

Demonstrating its own willingness to move in the matter, a signed agreement containing the basis of land settlement proposals between the Dominion and Provincial Governments will be sent to Ottawa this week, fully ratified in so far as provincial signatures are concerned, it was intimated yesterday at the Legislative Buildings.

The British Columbia ministry cannot go ahead with the plans on its own responsibility, and some time ago laid its request before the Dominion authorities for a Federal advance of $50,000 to enable a start to be made on the scheme, with respect to the Dominion's share of the cost.

Ottawa has already intimated its approval of the principle of land settlement proposals as a partial solution of unemployment needs, but so far has made no direct reply to the British Columbia request for final decision on the scheme.

Meanwhile a large number of applications have been filed with the British Columbia Government from those willing and anxious to go on the land, if given a modest start. The British Columbia plan was prepared by a joint committee of the Province and public bodies.

MANY DEATHS FEARED IN MUNITIONS BLAST

DUKES REVERSE FIGHT VERDICT

Montreal Commission Changes Decision of Judges in Huat-De Grasse Bout

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—Two out of three judges last night decided that Pete de Grasse, of Montreal, had outpointed Eugene Huat, Paris, France, in their twelve-round scrap at the Forum. But the Montreal Boxing Commission reversed the ruling and Huat is officially the winner.

The judges, Chene, Lynch and Ritchot, balloted; Chene in favor of Huat; Lynch and Ritchot for De Grasse. The Indian was announced as winner and he left the ring. Shortly afterwards the commission held an emergency meeting and declared Huat winner. Most of the crowd had left the arena before the reversal.

The fight was close and interesting, with De Grasse carrying the early rounds and Huat scoring near the finish. In the twelfth Huat scored a knockdown.

Ladies' Guild at Nanaimo Holds Successful Fete

NANAIMO, Sept. 1.—Under the auspices of St. Paul's Ladies' Guild, a most successful garden party was held at the home of Mrs. J. F. Newman, yesterday afternoon and evening. Mrs. W. Matthew, Mrs. A. E. Planta, Mrs. E. Jepson and Mrs. H. Hitchcox assisted Mrs. Newman in receiving.

Gay bunting and colored lights comprised the decoration scheme, which gave the garden a cheery appearance. The home cooking stall was in charge of the Women's Auxiliary of the church, while St. Paul's Business Women's Auxiliary helped by means of a candy stall and the selling of garden seeds.

The Ladies' Guild provided afternoon tea and housie-housie for the visitors. The golden goose, besides being the means of increasing the funds, caused a great deal of amusement. The Anglican Young People's Association had charge of this novelty, and Mrs. O. Cavalsky helped the visitors to look into the future by means of cards and tea-cups. A delightful programme was also given, those taking part being: Afternoon, Miss Dolly Shepherd's pupils in dance and Miss Somerville; evening, Mrs. O. D. Roberts, Mrs. W. P. McDonald, Mr. C. H. Byrne, Mrs. Reynolds, Mr. Adam Hedley, Misses Hedley and Miss Dorothy Trawford.

The $50 gold bond was won by Mrs. J. Sumpton.

Derby Winner May Not Start In Rich Stakes

LONDON, Sept. 1 (CP). — Tom Walls, owner and trainer of April the Fifth, Derby winner of 1932, said today he considered his horse a doubtful starter for the St. Leger stakes of September 7, though he paid the fifty final sovereigns acceptance fee yesterday.

Twenty-one probable starters remain out of the scores nominated in November, 1930. The St. Leger, a classic of the English turf, is for colts and fillies foaled in 1929, and is run over a distance of about one mile, six furlongs, 132 yards, at Doncaster.

The Aga Khan's Udaipur and Dastur, together with W. Singer's Orwell, once highly-touted favorite for the Derby, have been running even for St. Leger betting honors at about 5 to 1.

ALL-INDIA TEAM AND GYMKHANA XI IN DRAWN MATCH

LONDON, Sept. 1 (CP).—The All-India touring cricket team's two-day match with Indian Gymkhana was declared drawn. India scored 343 for four, declared, their opponents replying with 320. Naidu, for all-India, took five wickets for 81 runs.

in the match between Yorkshire and the M.C.C. owing to rain. At the close of play yesterday the county team had scored 326, while the M.C.C. had lost one wicket for 7 runs.

Closing scores in other games follow:

Players, 194 and 228 for six wickets (Hearne 70, Worthington 59, not out, Woolley 56); Gentlemen, 277 (Hane 136, Freeman five for 100).

Somersetshire, 303 and 9 for no wicket; Sussex, 256 (J. Parks 83, H. Parks 83, Robertson-Glasgow five for 47).

DASTUR, ORWELL FAVORED TO WIN ST. LEGER STAKES

ENTERTAINED AT DUNCAN

Governor-General Pays Brief Visit on Way Up Island

DUNCAN, Sept. 1.—Perfect weather conditions prevailed during the visit to Duncan of the Governor-General and Lady Bessborough. The party arrived at the War Memorial at noon, where they inspected the Canadian Legion, under F. W. Hitchcox; the Duncan and Quamichan troops of Cubs and Scouts under Rev. A. Bischlager, and Girl Guides and Brownies under the command of Miss N. C. Denny, district commissioner.

Cowichan, Dogwood, Malahat and Porter Chapters of the I.O.D.E. united in presenting Lady Bessborough with a piece of Indian work, and the Dogwood Chapter presented her with a corsage bouquet.

The party was entertained at luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Drayton, where a reception was also held at 3:15 o'clock, after which the guests left for Up-Island.

TODAY'S RECIPE

PINEAPPLE PIE—One cup of pineapple juice, one cup of sugar, two tablespoons of cornstarch, yolks of two eggs. Boil pineapple juice and sugar together. Wet the cornstarch with a little water and stir into the mixture. Cook until thick. Add the yolks, slightly beaten, with a little sugar to keep from curdling. When cool put in a baked pastry shell. Make a meringue of the whites of the eggs and a little sugar and spread on top. Brown in a quick oven.

Vetoes Career for His Sons

IF Charlie Chaplin, filmdom's most noted comedian, can help it, his sons, Earl, five, and Charles Spencer, six, both above, will not go on with their present movie career. He has instituted proceedings in Los Angeles to prevent his former wife, Lita Grey Chaplin, below, left, from fulfilling a contract to appear with the boys in a picture. A clause in the Chaplin divorce agreement is alleged to prohibit Mrs. Chaplin from such action without consent of the comedian.

Courtenay Wedding Of Interest

COURTENAY, Sept. 1.—St. John's Anglican Church formed the setting on Wednesday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, of a very pretty wedding when Rev. G. L. Bourdillon united in marriage Marguerite Jean, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Beasley and Mr. Philip Lewis Barron, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barron, of West Point Grey, Vancouver. The church had been artistically decorated in pastel shaded dahlias and gladioli, with asparagus and sword ferns, by friends of the bride.

Entering the church to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin," the bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. F. J. Staghall, a friend of the family, looked lovely in her bridal gown of ivory wool lace. The bodice was close fitting, with square neckline and marquisette sleeves, the skirt falling in soft folds to the instep. The lines of the gown were broken at the waist with a girdle clasped with a diamante buckle. Her veil was of tulle, worn in cap style, gathered at the back of the neck, and held in place by a double strand of orange blossoms clustering over the ears, from which it cascaded to the ground, forming a short train. Her only ornament was a double string of seed pearls, while her bridal bouquet was composed of pale pink roses and sprengeri fern.

PRETTY BRIDESMAID

Miss Kathleen Beasley, sister of the bride, was her only attendant, and wore a frock of orchid dotted net over flat crepe, made with a short, close-fitting bodice, round neck and puffed sleeves; the skirt was encircled with a wide velvet sash in a deeper tone. Her hat was of orchid silk stitched mohair, trimmed with small velvet flowers on the under brim, ivory lace mittens completing the ensemble. She carried a bouquet of pale yellow snapdragons and orchid scabiosa.

Mr. George Masters, of Vancouver, acted as groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Harvey Wallace and Mr. Patrick Ellis.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Benjamin Hughes gave a beautiful rendering of "I Love You Truly," and Mr. C. W. Sillence, of Royston, presided at the organ.

RECEPTION AT "EDGE HILL"

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at "Edge Hill," the bride's home. Mrs. Beasley received in a becoming grey flowered dress, with a grey straw hat trimmed in mauve, and a corsage bouquet of violas. Mrs. Barron, who assisted Mrs. Beasley in receiving the guests, wore a lace gown in gold tones, with hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Barron left for the South on an extended motor trip, the bride traveling in a nigger-brown cloth dress and biege felt hat trimmed in nigger brown, a biege lapin jacquette completing her costume. On returning from their wedding journey they will reside at Trail.

Qualicum Beach

Mrs. J. N. Hodgins entertained at an enjoyable dance on Tuesday evening following the tennis tournament. During the evening the prizes were presented to the winners. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Thwaites, Misses Dorothy Pinckard, Pamela, Audrie and Patricia Thwaites, Shirley Davidson, Evelyn and Helen Maguire, Mary Money, Sheila and Dorothy Monserrat, Gloria Havemeyer, Nesta Ellis, "B." Baker and Mary Kay Burnham, Messrs. Monroe Pinckard, Gordon Money, Alex Marling, Jack Bankes, Gait Martin, Philip Hobbs, Hudson and Cairnes Connelly, Douglas Robertson, Arthur Riddell, Stewart Lane, Jack Maguire and Ronald Thwaites.

At the request of Miss Savory, agriculture convener, Mrs. H. A. Hincks read an article about the Tudor Rose pin project to encourage buying within the Empire, and Mrs. Welch read a clipping about the scheme outlined by Hon. R. W. Bruhn to place the unemployed single men on farms. A discussion followed, and preparations were made for the flower show. Mrs. E. H. Phipps and Miss Montcrieff were hostesses for the afternoon.

New Garden Is Scene of Y.W.C.A. Tea

The tea party arranged yesterday afternoon in the new ground of the Y.W.C.A. was a delightful affair and attracted many friends of the organization. Mrs. Walsh, the president, and Miss Gene McLeod, general secretary, welcomed the guests in the garden adjoining the Annex at 752 Courtney Street.

Visitors were surprised at the progress which has been made within the past few months, and a green lawn and borders of dahlias and late-blooming Summer flowers made a great improvement to the appearance of the building.

Tea was served at small tables on the lawn, under the direction of Mrs. F. J. Norris and Mrs. J. A. Pearce. Mrs. J. A. Scott and Mrs. W. H. Whiteley had charge of the home cooking both and Miss G. Checkley was responsible for a guessing contest. Miss Jean MacLaren and Miss Norma Macdonald sold delicious home-made candy, and Miss A. Paisley was at the Y.W.C.A. interest booth.

Teacup reading and fortune telling were great attractions. The rug contest was won by Mrs. Bowden, and Miss McLeod was the winner of the large box of home-made sweets.

The arrangements are in the hands of the oarsmen's dance committee, with Mr. Daniel Moses as chairman, assisted by Messrs. T. D. Roberts, J. King, A. Wood, F. Cole, J. Dunn and J. Mann.

Cuffey was a name formerly given to negroes in the West Indies and common among the maroons of Jamaica

Seek Desert Adventures

THE Marchioness of Milford Haven (left) and Lady Louis Mountbatten (right) are leaving England on an adventurous trip into the Persian Desert. They will take with them neither companions, servants, nor luggage. The trip may occupy many weeks, and the means of transportation they will use will include trains, ships, airplanes, horses, mules, camels and their own feet. The two travelers intend to depend wholly on their own resources and to enjoy unrelieved "roughing it." "We want to get away from people, towns and hotels," said the Marchioness, who is thirty-six years old, and her companion is thirty-one.

Just Among Us Girls

Earl and His Bride Refuse Interviewers

EDMONTON, Sept. 1 (CP).—The young Earl of Egmont and his bride are staying in Edmonton for a few days. So far as known, the young couple are not attending any functions and not going far from their hotel. It is believed they will remain here until Saturday, when they will go to Jasper Park for a short holiday and then continue their honeymoon trip to Vancouver and Victoria, before returning to Priddis, Alberta, the young rancher-earl's home.

The young couple early ran the gamut of newspapermen here on their arrival and the victory was decidedly all the earl's.

"I won't tell you anything—I won't tell you anything," he repeated over and over. He furtively hid his face between a turned collar and pulled-down cap. He refused any help, picking up two suitcases, which comprised his luggage, buried his face even deeper in his coat collar and strode to the taxi-stands.

He is heir of an estate amounting to over $1,000,000, earl in his own right, and lord of the wide acres of one of England's proudest estates—but, as the rain pattered softly down, he stood at the Edmonton station with his brooding eyes firmly fixed on the ground and was nothing but a boy—and a frightened boy.

He registered at a city hotel, signing the register merely "Mr. and Mrs. F. Perceval" in a rounded schoolboy script.

ESQUIMALT W.I. ARRANGES SHOW

Reeve Albert Heald Opens Exhibition at St. Paul's Parish Hall—Prize Winners Named

In opening the flower show yesterday afternoon, at St. Paul's Parish Hall, Reeve Albert Heald, of Esquimalt, congratulated the Esquimalt Women's Institute upon its work and the influence of institute work in any community. He drew attention to the fact that the wives of the Indian delegates to the Ottawa Conference had been so interested in Women's Institute work and its success in Canada that they are hoping to interest their own people in India in this form of social activity.

Miss Clare Cresine presented a bouquet to Mrs. Heald and a buttonhole of roses to the reeve.

EXHIBITION CONVENERS

Mrs. T. H. Cave was general convener and many attractive stalls had been arranged under the convenership of the members of the institute. Mrs. G. Wise had charge of the flowers; Mrs. G. Williamson, vegetables; Mrs. M. Kelly, home cooking; Mrs. M. McDuff, candy; Mrs. T. Bradley, bran tub; Mrs. A. Booth and Mrs. Pocock, children's work.

The visitors were welcomed by the president, Mrs. W. Grimes, and tea was served during the afternoon by Mrs. A. Stewart, Mrs. D. McLean and Mrs. A. Kennedy. Mrs. G. Mason was at the door in charge of the receipts.

While the entries were not as numerous as in some years, the competition was keen and some choice specimens were on exhibition.

PRIZE LIST

The prizes were awarded as follows:

Roses—1, Mrs. Barclay; 2, Mrs. Appleby.
Carnations—2, Mrs. T. Cave.
Sweet peas—1, Mrs. Barclay.
Asters—2, Mrs. Cave.
Single aster—2, Mrs. Carver.
Cactus dahlias—1, Mrs. J. Craig; 2, Mrs. T. Cave.
Six varieties of dahlias—1, Miss Craig; 2, Mrs. G. Wise.
Collection of dahlias—1, Mrs. Bradley; 2, Mrs. J. Matheson.
Chrysanthemums — 1, Mrs. W. Phillips; 2, Mrs. J. Appleby.
Gladioli—1, Mrs. McFarlane; 2, Mrs. Phillips.
Bowl of flowers—1, Mrs. W. Barclay; 2, Mrs. Phillips.
Penstemons—1, Mrs. Acreman.
In the children's work the prizes were as follows:
Crayon work—1, Doris Lockley; 2, D. Acreman.
Handwriting—1, Clare Cresine; 2, H. Williamson; consolation, K. Mitchell.
Cushion—2, H. Williamson.
Dressmaking—1, Elsie Hall; 2, P. Lockley.
Hand painting—1, P. Lockley; 2, W. Mitchell.
Painting—1, Jim Green; 2, Margot Green.
Knitting—2, M. Hall.

Beavers to Aid Industry In Okanagan

QUESNEL, Sept. 1. — Five live beavers from the Bowron Lake game sanctuary, near Barkerville, the nucleus of a colony of thirty, which is being established in the Okanagan by the Provincial Game Department, passed through here en route to their new home. The beavers are to assist the farmer, the miner and the lumbering industry by placing dams at strategic points across the water courses of the Okanagan, and in this way conserve the water supply and regulate the runoff.

The beavers are trapped by Warden Frank Kibbee, of Bowron Lake, who employs home-made traps of ingenious design. Later, in separate crates, they are relayed by game warden's cars over the Cariboo Road to their destination.

What Today Means

"VIRGO"

If September 2 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7:30 a.m. to 9:50 a.m., from noon to 2 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. The danger hours are from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., from 3 p.m. to 5:10 p.m. and from 9 p.m. to 10:20 p.m.

The planetary aspects of September 2 are decidedly favorable, and augur well for all fields of endeavor. Quick accomplishment may not be in evidence, but the sound foundations for progress and success can be laid. Care of health and person is advised, as there are indications not very pronounced, of both sickness and accident.

A child born on this September 2 will cause trouble and worry just after adolescence. On reaching maturity, however, it promises to settle down, whether it be a boy or girl, to steady effort and application and will "make good." A trifle thoughtless, it will be free from malice, with a disposition bubbling over with affection and love.

Born on September 2, you are a confirmed pessimist, and are never looking for that something just around the corner, on which the optimist always reckons. In your case, pessimism makes you work harder and more thoroughly than if you were confident of success, and in spite of your lugubriousness you are destined to accomplish much in any career that you may elect to follow. You are, perforce, condemned to live a solitary life, as the enthusiasts of the world do not court the companionship of one who only visualizes failure and belittles effort.

Your disposition, in spite of its mournfulness, is a kind one, and you never hesitate to extend a helping hand to those who stand in need of it. Rather nervous in the society of the opposite sex, and nearly always tongue-tied and a great proportion of your life with foot-locked, you may have to spend a great portion of your life without that intimate companionships which eases troubles and lightens burdens. You are a demon for work, and possess great powers of concentration. Meticulous and careful in your methods, you are a stickler for neatness and order, whether it be in the home, the office or the factory. Indifferent to sports of a competitive character, you find your chief recreation in reading and walking.

MAKES UNOFFICIAL RECORD

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 1.—Major James H. Doolittle flew his racing low-wing monoplane at an average speed of 293.193 miles an hour for a new unofficial world's land plane speed record at the National air races here yesterday.

To promote its export trade, Ceylon plans to establish a bureau of industry and commerce.

Money Necessary Before Race Can Be Arranged For

Challenge for Schooner Championship of Atlantic Has Been Issued and Accepted—Outcome in Hands of Race Committee

HALIFAX, Sept. 1. — Whether those two proud queens of the fishing banks, the haughty Bluenose, of Lunenburg, or the plucky Gertrude L. Thebaud, of Gloucester, will battle on the heaving grey Atlantic this Fall for the International Fishermen's Trophy is in the lap of the gods. Captain Angus Walters, of the Bluenose, has sounded a challenge and Captain Ben Pine, of the Thebaud, has flung it back at him, but Old Man Depression has included schooner-racing in his long list of victims.

It's up to the United States race committee, they say. Funds are needed to stage the race, which would be held off Gloucester this time, and it is believed that the race committee will be hesitant to ask for money when so many charities are crying for aid.

NOT A DEAD ISSUE

But, in spite of this, the schooner race is by no means a dead issue. The issuing and acceptance of the challenge has caused a stir not only in the Atlantic fishing ports of Lunenburg and Gloucester, where weather-beaten old salts are arguing with some vehemence as to the relative chance of both boats, but in many an inland district where landlubbers who have never seen the ocean follow the races with even greater interest than the folk along the Atlantic seaboard.

(Did you know that the races aroused so much interest on one occasion that traders in the San Francisco stock market asked that quotations be kept off the wire and schooner race bulletins be substituted?)

And the various fans have plenty of material to support their arguments. Captain Angus, in issuing his challenge, made but one stipulation: that if there is to be a race, the announcement be made early enough to give the Bluenose time to prepare for it.

NEEDS NEW RIGGING

The Bluenose, champion of the Atlantic bankers since shortly after her launching in 1921, requires new spars and the replacement of some rigging and gear before she is ready to attempt another contest. Although there are many who doubt the effect of such changes, Captain Angus is still confident. He asserts with some heat that "the timber isn't growing in the forests that will build a vessel to beat her." Everyone, including her designer, W. J. Roue, of Halifax, profess that her performance is a mystery.

Build another boat from the same plans, they say. Use the same timber. Copy the rigging exactly. Employ identical materials throughout—and you won't have another Bluenose. The Bluenose is just one of those things—a mystery ship.

CAPTAIN CONFIDENT

For this reason there is some fear that any changes effected might impair her sailing qualities. But Captain Angus is confident and, although the big banker has stayed at home during the past two seasons, the fishing industry being hit as well by the depression, the Bluenose has been on the marine railway at Lunenburg for overhauling and painting, and has undergone minor repairs.

The Bluenose at eleven years, says one writer, is living on borrowed time—for a Canadian fisherman seldom escapes the storms, reefs, and other misfortunes more than ten years. The Bluenose, indeed, has not escaped them. Her hull was badly scraped in grounding once already, but apparently this had no effect on her sailing qualities.

ONLY ONCE DEFEATED

The vessel has been defeated but once in her career. She was defeated by the Thebaud at Gloucester two years ago in a nontitle contest. But this was in a series marked by drifting and idle winds. What the Bluenose loves is a spanking breeze and rough going.

Last Fall, the Bluenose walked away from the Thebaud off Halifax, but supporters of the Gloucester boat were not satisfied with her showing. They said that she had come to the starting line ballasted for heavy weather, and found light.

And now for the Thebaud. Captain Pine agrees with Angus that early announcement should be made.

"We will require at least five weeks to get Thebaud into condition," he says. "She needs a new mainsail, foresail and staysail, and her auxiliary engine will have to be taken out. Then we would have to ballast her and tune her up for a couple of weeks."

"THINK WE CAN IMPROVE"

And like Angus, Ben Pine is confident. "We are not afraid of any vessel, and we think we can improve on Thebaud's performance in 1931," he declares.

Followers of the contests regret one feature of this year's series, if any. That is, that Captain Pine may, because of ill-health, be unable to sail the Thebaud himself. Last year he was unable to bring the boat to Halifax and came on by train, but gamely took the wheel during the race, although far from well.

And now it's up to the race committee, and as the series is generally held in October and both skippers have asked to be notified in plenty of time, definite announcement is expected within the next few weeks.

Woman Flyer Hit High Speed Rate At Big Air Meet

Race Challenge Issued

WHILE it is not definitely known as yet whether there will be a series of races for the Fishermen's Trophy, emblematic of the schooner championship of the North Atlantic, the skippers of both Bluenose (above) and Gertrude L. Thebaud are anxious to meet again. In an exhibition race off Gloucester in 1930 Bluenose was defeated by the United States vessel, but in the official series last Fall for the trophy off Halifax the Canadian craft was victorious.

COAST LINER WAS DELAYED

Ruth Alexander Late in Arriving—Norah Sailed for West Coast

It was 1 o'clock this morning when the Pacific Steamship Company's coastal liner, Ss. Ruth Alexander, tied up at Rithet Piers from California. The Ruth Alexander was delayed by head winds off the coast. The ship brought fifty passengers, who were to remain on board until 6 o'clock this morning. At 7 o'clock the liner was to proceed to Seattle.

To load lumber for Australia, the Swedish freighter Ss. Roxen is due alongside Ogden Point Piers tomorrow evening. She is coming from Chemainus, and will complete here, loading 360,000 feet of lumber before sailing for the South Sea continent.

Bound for Port Alice and way ports on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, the B.C. Coast Service Ss. Princess Norah, left the Belleville Street docks of Canadian Pacific Steamships, at 12 o'clock last night. The Norah had a fair passenger list and good cargo for points along the coast.

FROM WEST INDIES

With general cargo from the West Indies, the freighter Chris Knudson, operating in the Vancouver-West Indies service, is due here Monday, according to King Brothers, agents for the line here. The Knudson is bringing general cargo for the port.

Due here Sunday, the Kingsley Navigation Company's freighter, Ss. Texada, is on the way up the coast, having left San Francisco for Victoria at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. The Texada has general cargo for discharge here. King Brothers are agents for the company in Victoria.

Flyer Missed Land Speed Record By Small Margin

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1 (AP).—Major James H. Doolittle, flashing four times over a three-kilometre course today at the United States air races, averaged 282.672 miles an hour—.778 mile less than the world's land speed mark held for eight years in France.

It was the second time in two days that the record escaped the former Air Corps pilot, an average of 293.193 miles an hour made yesterday having no official standing because of failure to carry a barograph. On landing, Doolittle said the motor had not behaved correctly and ordered mechanics to look over the power plant for possible damage. He expected the ship would not be ready for another try for the record until Saturday.

HONOR LATE COLLEAGUE

Staff of Immigration Service Makes Presentation to Retiring Member

With the best wishes of his late associates, J. W. Speed retired from the Canadian immigration service, Wednesday, August 31. During the late afternoon of that day, he was asked to meet the members of the staff in the headquarters office, when Robert Roff, inspector-in-charge of the Victoria branch, presented him with a fitting memento of the occasion in the shape of a fine electric clock, suitably engraved, as a token of esteem and appreciation. Mr. Speed was agreeably surprised, and replied appreciatively for the kindly thought expressed in the gift as well as the nice things said about him.

In making the presentation, Mr. Roff recalled the long term of service Mr. Speed had given the department, joining the staff when it was confined to a small number under the guidance of Dr. G. L. Milne, the first medical inspector and immigration agent for the port of Victoria. He had been well trained and, as a result, had contributed in no small way to the building up of the service to its present standard.

SEVERAL SPOKE

Following Mr. Roff, F. W. Taylor, Vancouver, divisional commissioner in British Columbia for immigration, congratulated the retiring official on his excellent record and hoped he would be spared a long time in which to enjoy his well-earned retirement. A. E. Skinner, retired divisional commissioner, also of Vancouver, referred glowingly to Mr. Speed's term in the employ of the country while serving under him, while S. N. Reid, former inspector-in-charge here, contributed further eulogistic remarks favorable to the principal in the leave-taking.

During his twenty-three years of service, Mr. Speed became a well-known figure to the traveling public while discharging his duties on the docks of Victoria, as well as coming in contact with representatives of shipping interests. In this connection, a timely telegram was received from C. E. Blaney, traveling passenger agent for Canadian Pacific Steamships, wishing him good luck on behalf of the steamship company employees.

While he started out in life after leaving school to acquire knowledge in the business world, it was but natural that Mr. Speed would eventually gravitate to a calling to do with ships and shipping; for he was born on a sailing vessel at sea. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Speed, left England in 1862 to come to British Columbia. They took passage on the ship Helvetia, and while off Cape Horn, on August 23, 1862, J. W. Speed was born. He spent the first five months of his life on the ship, for it was January 8, 1863, when the Helvetia arrived here.

GREW UP WITH CITY

John grew up with the city, attending the old Central School as a boy. Through school he went into the grocery business with his brother, the location being at the corner of Fort and Douglas Streets, where they continued for many years. In 1909, the immigration service called him and he has been with it ever since.

Succeeding Mr. Speed on the local staff, James Lister, for twenty years with the Seattle office of the department, has been transferred to Victoria, commencing his duties yesterday morning.

FREE TICKETS FOR AIR SHOW

Admittance Cards Will Be Dropped From Plane at Noon Today

Today at noon, Ernest Eve, field manager for the big air show to take place at Gordon Head Airport on Monday afternoon (Labor Day), will fly over the city and drop from his plane fifty free tickets to the airport. He will repeat with another fifty tickets on Saturday at noon. These tickets will be contained in an envelope and will admit the holder to all the privileges of the airport on Monday.

The biggest crowd in the history of aviation in Victoria is expected to assemble at the airport to see the daring aviators go through their thrilling stunts. Twenty planes will take part in the display, it was reported yesterday by W. H. Mearns, business manager of the venture, and many of those entered for the contests have big reputations on the Mainland and south of the line.

In order to avoid confusion, the officials in charge of the air meet have arranged a complete patrol system of all highways leading to the airport on Monday afternoon, and ticket sellers will be placed at points of approach to the field to sell tickets to motorists, and a ticket selling booth has been opened at the corner of Yates and Douglas Streets. The only entrance to the airport will be off Gordon Head Road, and motorists will drive into a reserved portion of the big landing field. This arrangements is expected to solve the traffic problem.

The four-hour programme of events will commence at 2 o'clock with a glider exhibition, and at 2:30 o'clock planes will go up in formation and will play follow the leader in the sky for half an hour. After that there will be a series of individual plane stunts, landing contests and parachute jumps, as well as speed races over the airport.

Pilots who had entered in the show up to 6 o'clock last night were announced by Ernest Eve, field manager, as follows: A. H. Wilson, Donald Lawson, Maurice McGregor, Clifford Peene and F. Gilbert, Vancouver; William Fletcher, San Francisco; Cecil Pounder, Portland; Lee U. Eyerly, Salem; Arthur Lee, Seattle; Major David Lee, superintendent of Boeing Airport at Seattle; Lieutenant Kelly, Seattle; E. Monsigneur, Portland; Earl Brett and Leonard Fraser, Chilliwack; Ernest Eve, Victoria; Edward Bennett, Vancouver, and H. Brooks, Chilliwack. These latter two are parachute jumpers, Alderman Dean, of Vancouver, and William Templeton, superintendent of the Sea Island Airport at Vancouver, are also coming over for the show.

Many Fine Exhibits at Langford Flower Show

LANGFORD, Sept. 1.—The flower show and exhibition held under the auspices of the Langford Women's Institute, on Wednesday afternoon, was attended by a large crowd of the residents of Langford, Happy Valley and Summer visitors to the lake.

The number of exhibits was smaller than usual, but the judge, Joohn Noble, commented especially upon the excellence of H. A. Hincks' vegetable and fruit display and of corn exhibited by Lily Ilot.

Mrs. J. D. Gordon judged the needlework section, which was exceptionally attractive.

Mrs. Gordon also opened the show after being introduced by Mrs. P. N. Welch, the president, who presented the prizes for the essay, open to Girl Guides and Boy Scouts, on "Good Sportsmanship," to the winners. These were judged by Rev. H. S. Payne and Capt. R. J. Wagner, and the prizes awarded to, first, Rita Morrison, and second, Stella Hincks.

Mrs. Brown and Miss I. Smith managed the home cooking stall. Mrs. A. Moir and Mrs. R. J. Smith, assisted by Miss C. Smith and Miss C. Bennett, were conveners of the teas, which were served in a large tent. Mrs. H. A. Hincks sold ice cream. The prize list follows:

They return to Duncan on Friday afternoon and spend the night at Maple Bay. On Saturday they are being taken over the Chemainus mill and if possible will be shown the logging operations at the foot of Mt. Sicker.

COUNCIL MEETS AT LADYSMITH

Board Deals With Variety of Local Problems Following Long Interval

LADYSMITH, Sept. 1.—After five weeks' interval, the City Council met last evening in a regular business session. A communication from W. P. MacDonald, manager of the Nanaimo Power & Light Co., acknowledged the letter from the council objecting to the use of a K.V.A. charge by the Utilities company in the event of Ladysmith entering into a power contract. Mr. MacDonald explained that these charges were common usage in all large centres supplied by a company, and cited Nanaimo, Victoria and Vancouver as instances. Meanwhile, however, the objection from the City Council will be referred to the head office of the Utilities for a definite ruling on the subject.

The matter of insurance protection for unemployed traveling to work in the city truck was dealt with, and it transpired that, while two well-known Canadian insurance companies proposed coverage for premiums of $390 and $320 annually, a British company was prepared to grant coverage from $5,000 to $50,000 for $27.50 annual premium.

The men working on the roads are prepared to pay something towards the cost of their transportation, and the whole matter of insurance and payment will be dealt with later by the council, and a meeting arranged with the unemployed to agree on steps.

BILLS PRESENTED

From January, 1925, until December, 1926, a family lived in Ladysmith. The husband died at Chemainus, during their residence here, and the widow and children later moved to Courtenay. Now the City Council here, is in receipt of bills from Courtenay, asking for the payment of a mother's pension to the widow and family to the extent of $57.50 monthly.

The city is also being charged for the keep of ten patients at Essondale, at $150 per month, and will accept responsibility for only six of these. It was stated it was an absolute impossibility for the city to face these new accounts, and a committee was appointed to go into the matter with the Government.

The midyear financial statement is not yet completed, but the finance committee submitted an interim report on financial affairs to the council. The report mentions that in the face of adverse conditions, the electric light department shows a gross profit for the six-month period of $1,089.02, with outstanding delinquent accounts to the amount of $1,315.02.

The bank loan is almost paid off, and tax receipts amount to 66 per cent of the total levy, and there is every indication this percentage will be materially increased before the end of the current year.

The final paragraph of the report calls attention to the high delinquency in taxes and light accounts, and recommends that some action be taken to enforce collection in order to help the city meet the current year's obligations.

Receiving the report, the council decided to delay consideration of the final paragraph until the meeting on September 28.

OIL AND COAL

Mayor Mason called the attention of the council to the suggestions contained in a recent editorial in The Ladysmith Chronicle, proposing the use of the local power plant for the experimental stages of trial for the new fuel that is favored by the Cunard company in its ocean-going liners. This fuel is a mixture of crude oil and pulverized coal, and the recommendation in The Chronicle favored equal participation by the city, the Government and the Canadian Collieries in the experiment.

Mayor Mason believed the use of this new fuel opened up great possibilities for the coal industry, and suggested the council first interview Col. C. W. Villiers, general manager of the Canadian Collieries to elicit his opinion on the matter. This course will be followed, and the matter gone into thoroughly.

CHAPTER XXV

The days grew shorter; it was dark now when Gail came home from the library at five o'clock. As she sat cuddling the baby she could see the oak branches tossing in the dusk of the yard and the leaves scurrying down.

At this hour she would often fall to dreaming. It was an hour in which to remember Edith, talking eagerly of poetry, of drama, of Utopias and philanthropy; an hour that brought back Ariel, spoiled, petulant, beautiful, always to be excused and adored by her sisters.

Above all, in the Winter twilights with the soft lump of babyhood that was another Gail Lawrence in her arms, Gail dreamed of Dick and of the brief moment of romance that had somehow seemed to give her her true values in life. She had been playing, playing idly and superficially, with Van Murchison and she had awakened to the full realization of what her heart needed, what her heart could give, just a moment too late.

It had been Ariel all the time for big, sober, quiet Dick. He had never seen Gail; she had never tried to help him find her. But she knew in her heart that she could have given him a thousand times what Ariel could give. Ariel must be changed indeed if she had become a helpful, tender mate for a struggling lawyer. Ariel's ideal was not one of homemaking, of quiet and domesticity beside a fire. Hollywood—supposing them still to be in that neighborhood—would only inflame Ariel with a desire for luxury, fame, money.

But then they might long ago have left Southern California. It was almost three years now since that memorable Christmas Day before Ariel's eighteenth birthday when she and Dick had run away from them all. Gail had had two communications from her since; the first was the scribbled note she had left in her deserted bedroom; the second had come a few months after Edith's death and had been postmarked Phoenix, Arizona.

"Gail dear, I am so horribly sorry about darling Ede, but, Gail, she was happy," the tear-stained, unpunctuated note had read. "She was too good for this world and only would have had trouble and disappointment. I am well and so is Dick, and we are coming home soon to tell you all the news, so no more now except that I adore you."

It had been signed simply "Ariel," and had borne neither date nor address.

One day she had driven Phil's car, full of small boys, out to the Stanislaus' ranch. It was prosperous now and the Lawrences' money troubles, preposterous and unexpected as the situation seemed, were over. Phil was doing well, Gail had had a raise, the oil station paid its hundred a month faithfully and that money Phil handed over untouched to his sister.

The remains of the once magnificent Lawrence estate were divided now; the old house was Phil's, the corner had been surveyed and measured and given to Gail, the Stanislaus property was wholly for Sam and Ariel. Rent went into the bank in Ariel's maiden name. Sam paid his board to Lily.

Gail looked at the old ranch wistfully. She had dreamed once a brief dream of coming there with Dick, of being mistress of these acres of orchard and pasture and wheat fields. They could have been happy there. They would have had children, driven into town in a mud-spattered old car, stopped for mail, for feed, for needles and egg-beaters and ink. Dick would have had cases in the big courthouse in the shady square and Gail would have gone into the library to ask the girl at the desk for the new novel.

And on Sundays they would have telephoned Phil and Lily to ask what the chances were of a picnic up at the old dam.

"I might have had a boy and a girl by this time. . . But certainly I wouldn't have had time for any writing. There's that to think about!

"Dick, I'd give up the chance of writing another Iliad to have had you love me, to have been Mrs. Dick Stebbins these three years."

There never would be anyone else. Other men had wanted her, some of them fine men, men who could have given her at least the position Dick's wife would have had. But Gail was barely conscious of their existence. She was only vaguely regretful when she had to hurt or disappoint them.

Her own attitude troubled her, for like all normal girls she dreamed wistfully of marriage, of her own home, her own ties. Bob Porter, who worked with Phil in the iron-works; Joe Clemence, one of Clippersville's rising dentists; young Doctor Adams; widowed Dana Sewell from the Murchison Mills; all these were merely empty names when they were presented to her. No, it just did not seem to mean anything, marrying anyone else than Dick; and until it did, Gail would not consider it.

But sometimes she did consider the strangeness of the situation should Dick and Ariel come back to Clippersville. They would never know that this brother-in-law was shrined deep in Gail's heart. They need never know. But it would be hard, it would be hard to see him, to have him kiss her in fraternal fashion, to hear Ariel complaining of his treatment of his new clothes.

Once after Edith's death Gail had written a simple friendly letter to Dick's mother, trusting the post-office to forward it to her in Oregon, where she lived now with a widowed daughter. Did Mrs. Stebbins know just where Dick was now, Gail had asked. She, Gail, had a book that he had wanted—and so on—and so on.

Mrs. Stebbins had answered that Dick was just about the worst letter-writer that ever was; he had been in Los Angeles for a while and after that up at Las Vegas, and last she heard he was in Phoenix for three weeks, but he was coming home, according to what he wrote, and just as soon as he did Mrs. Stebbins would see he wrote.

There was no mention of Ariel or Dick's marriage in either letter. Gail had not dared risk the secret, and either Mrs. Stebbins had been equally cautious or Dick had not taken his mother into his confidence.

Gail suspected as the months wore along that perhaps Dick's mother was too good, too simple, too trusting to suspect. She fancied sometimes that there was but one adequate explanation of Dick's and Ariel's silence. They were not happy; the impulsive marriage that had found her so young had proved a mistake. They were quarreling, perhaps already separated.

"Poor Ariel, poor Dick, poor all of us!" Gail would think.

"Some women live in their bodies, like Lily, loving and bearing and nursing babies. Perhaps they're the lucky ones. And some of us have to live in our minds and souls and dreams. But it's hard. It's hard to clasp air and kiss the wind for ever; I can be a writer, I suppose. I certainly mean to make myself one, if work and trying will do it. But it, would have been wonderful—wonderful, to be a wife!"

One rainy October afternoon Lily and the three older children were delayed at her mother's house and Gail had found herself alone in the big kitchen with the tiny Gail. Sam traveled up and down the coast now, doing press agent work for a string of vaudeville theatres, and was as often in Portland or in Los Angeles as at home in Clippersville. Tonight Gail half expected him and half expected that when Phil discovered his family's absence he would drive at once to the Wibser house and bring them all back. Meanwhile, she fussed away contentedly with preparations for her own supper.

As she went to and fro she looked often at the great washbasket, lined with dotted Swiss and blue ribbons, where the younger Gail was peacefully asleep.

"You little darling!" she would say standing to look down at the puckered little face.

Suddenly she heard a motor car on the old side drive; the engine stopped and a car door slammed. Then there were footsteps on the porch and the handle of the kitchen door turned. A second later, as Gail turned an inquiring glance that way and said aloud, "Phil?" the door swung open and the dimly lighted aperture framed a woman's slender figure. A young woman in a furred coat spattered lightly with rain, with a small hat drawn down over drifting fly-away golden hair. Ariel.

Gail stood stricken motionless for a moment. Then a great trembling and weakness came over her and she took a step toward her sister and stretched out her arms. And Ariel came with a bird's flight across the kitchen and flung her own arms tightly about Gail.

"Oh, my darling—my darling!" Gail whispered, her wet cheek against Ariel's wet cheek. "You're back!"

"Gail!" Ariel sobbed.

"Oh, dearest—dearest!"

There was no bitterness, no memory now. It was Ariel, the adored youngest, here against her heart again, living, loving, sorry, eager to be forgiven; there was nothing in Gail's feeling but one great ache of joy and pain and love.

"Gail, I've wanted you so!"

"And I you! But—but what fools we are to cry!" Gail stammered, laughing and crying both, with trembling lips and brimming eyes. "I know!"

They drew apart, hands linked, and looked at each other.

"You look—older, Ariel. You—I hardly knew you!"

Ariel shrugged in the old indifferent way. "Oh, well——"

"Oh, well, naturally!" Gail finished it for her with a laugh.

Ariel saw the basket and the baby; she gave Gail a frightened glance.

"Gail!"

"Oh no, no. That's Phil's baby. Lily's baby."

Ariel's proud mouth curled in the old haughty way. "I heard he had married her," she said, displeased, and there was a little pause.

"She's awfully nice, really," Gail protested, feeling as if a fall of cold water had suddenly enveloped her.

"Oh, how can you say so! That horrible Wibser!" Ariel said impatiently.

Suddenly they were back in their old relationship and there was reproof in the voice in which Gail said, "Be careful, Ariel! She isn't here, but Phil may be, any minute."

"Do you mean to tell me that Joe Cass' divorced wife——"

"Joe Cass died, Ariel. And they were here," Gail said as the other voice stopped on an indignant note, "they were here when Edith——And they've been here ever since," she added after another pause.

"I see," Ariel said in a gentle lowered tone. The old hoarse boyish voice and the old penitent look in the hazel eyes—how they brought back the days of long ago!

"Is Dick with you, Ariel?"

"Dick? Oh, yes! He's coming in with the bags."

"And are you going to say in Clippersville?"

"Are we——? Oh, heavens, no!" Ariel said expressively.

"But you are happy, darling?"

The younger sister had seated herself at the table, her bag and gloves had been flung there, now she loosened her Winter coat. "Nothing to cable home about, collect."

Something seemed to shrivel in Gail's heart at the tone. "Can we announce your marriage now, Ariel?"

Instead of answering Ariel fastened bright curious eyes on her sister. "Do you mean to say that nobody has ever suspected?"

"Nobody. It surprised me. Of course, I told Lily. But she never told even her mother. And people have all taken it for granted that you were down in Los Angeles with Aunt Annie Ralston's family. They didn't question it—not one-half so much as I thought they woud. I believe they still think of you as a child rather than a woman—someone to be sent around and schooled—I don't know. Anyway, if anyone has ever connected your name with Dick Stebbins' I never heard it."

"I've often wondered," Ariel said, listening attentively. "Not," she added with her own little favorite air of arrogance, "not that it made any difference to me! But I've often wondered what the old ladies in town were thinking about it."

There was a moment's silence, for Gail sensed something unexpressed in her sister's tone and waited, puzzled, for an explanation.

"I'm terribly glad——" Ariel began hesitatingly. "Gail!" she added suddenly on a more definite note. "I've got to tell you something; it's going to surprise you." She fell silent. "You must have known that there was something funny about all this?" she interrupted the pause to ask irrelevantly.

There was a sound behind Gail at the kitchen doorway. She turned and faced Dick Stebbins.

Bigger, browner, with more of that sweet homely kind air than ever. Some quality, reliable, trustworthy, restful, seemed to emanate from him; there was infinite strength for Gail in the mere touch of his big hand. He kissed her very simply and looked beyond her to Ariel. Gail, her sapphire eyes and the disciplined sweet wide mouth accenting her feeling of bewilderment and noncomprehension, sent her glance from one to the other.

"Had your talk?" Dick asked and the remembered voice sent waves of thrilling weakness and joy and pain through Gail's whole being.

"Not yet," Ariel said. "Tell her. Tell her the truth, Dick."

Heat Wave Sweeps British Capital

WITH the thermometer hovering at 99 degrees in the shade, one less than the all-time record, London's nine million inhabitants sweltered in the heat, and several dropped dead from prostration. Above are two scenes in the British capital. The one on the left shows a number of children trying to keep cool by paddling in the children's pool at Regent's Park, while on the right thousands take advantage of London's Lido and bathe in the Serpentine in Hyde Park.

Sudden Suddenly Comes to Life and Pays Handsomely

WINDSOR, Sept. 1.—It may have been the effects of the eclipse, but a one-dollar horse returned his owner a hundred times its purchase price by placing second in a race at Devonshire Park here yesterday.

Two days ago R. B. Waid purchased the four-year-old gelding Sudden when J. McGraw wanted to give the horse away because it did not show the gait that wins. To make it a business deal, Waid handed over a dollar bill.

Today Sudden suddenly came to life and ran a bang-up second in the first race, at six furlongs, to win a $100 pot for his new owner.

Set Next Tuesday County Court Day

The first regular sitting of Victoria County Court since the close of the long vacation period, which ended August 31, has been set for Tuesday, September 6, when Judge Peter S. Lampman will set dates for the hearing of cases coming to trial. The list of cases will not be available until the end of the week.

Judge Lampman will also hear applications for naturalization on September 7. Eight applications are set down for the consideration of the court, and will be supported by character witnesses.

POWER OF ACT IS QUESTIONED

Prisoners Under Narcotic Measure May Be Held, But Not Arrested

The right of the Dominion immigration authorities to arrest and detain persons after their release from prison, having served their term after conviction of offences against the Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act, was seriously questioned by Mr. Justice Murphy, in Supreme Court chambers here, yesterday, at the conclusion of hearing an application for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Sue Sun Poy, Chinese, held for deportation.

Mr. Justice Murphy contended that the Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act granted power to the immigration authorities to detain prisoners in custody, but not to arrest after their release from prison. He said he was not giving that as a judgment or grounds for the issuance of the writ to Sue Sun Poy, but was merely directing the attention of the authorities to the situation.

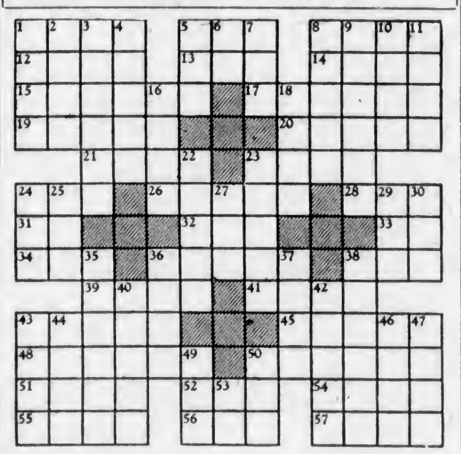

Should the opinion expressed by Mr. Justice Murphy be upheld, it would not preclude the authorities from arresting a released prisoner on any other grounds outside those of deportation of a person convicted under sections of the Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act, but it would prevent the authorities from taking a person in charge after he had been released from serving his term under the act in question, it is understood.

MILL FIRE IN ONTARIO

FORT FRANCES, Ont., Sept. 1—Damage of $100,000 was caused by fire which wiped out the mill and buildings of the Mathieu Lumber Co. near here last night. An exceptionally strong wind balked fire fighters in their efforts to check the blaze.

ROUND THE WORLD on a Letter of Credit ✦✦✦

With the permission of Mr. Gordon Sinclair, the well-known traveling reporter of The Toronto Daily Star, whose articles have been appearing in the Victoria Colonist, we reproduce here the Letter of Credit issued to him by The Canadian Bank of Commerce, and used on the world tour from which he recently returned.

"Not the slightest difficulty or delay in getting the cash," says Mr. Sinclair.

This is the common experience of holders of our Letters of Credit, which combine the maximum of safety with the maximum of negotiability.

If your credit is good in Canada, it can be made good anywhere. Mr. Gordon Sinclair proved this amply.

Security Prices Advance Again At Wall Street

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (AP).—Stocks braced themselves against the rails and a few favorites today, closing with gains that generally ranged from fractions to about 3 points.

Stocks had to contend against considerable preholiday realizing. Nevertheless, the market remained in strong hands and there was enough professional interest in carriers and some specialties to provide a background for higher prices. Quotations eased a little at the opening, mended slowly, met profit taking and then closed strongly, rounding out their best performance of the week. Transactions totaled 2,428,948 shares.

Expectations of an increase in freight loadings appeared largely responsible for further buying of rail stocks. Pennsylvania was up 2, Santa Fe, 3 1-2; Union Pacific, 2 7-8, and Southern Pacific, 2 1-4.

September, according to forecasts, is to be a month of larger steel production, although recent estimates have tended to tone down the more optimistic predictions of a fortnight or so ago. Steel shares were generally firm, with a few good advances standing out.

Westinghouse Electric, United Aircraft, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide and a few other industrials gave evidence of pool supplies, while some of the light and power issues were still under the influence of last week's pickup in electricty output. Miscellaneous stocks up from a fraction to a point included American Telephone, United States Steel common, General Electric and American Smelting.

Brokers' loans tapered off $10,000,000 in the week ended August 31 to $345,000,000, the August 12 level, compared with the low of $331,000,000 reached late in July.

The railroads put on a few extra pounds of steam, with the result that the bond market was able to show a fractional gain for the first time this week.

The recovery was confined principally to the speculative transportation group, however, as both the utilities and industrials were somewhat irregular and hesitant.

Sales totaled only $10,294,000 par value, and the average for sixty corporate issues was up one-tenth of a point.

The principal railroad gainers of the session included some loans of Canadian Pacific, Allegheny Corporation, Baltimore & Ohio, New York Central, Pennsylvania and Southern.

Both the United States and foreign Government departments were quiet. The Australians rallied sharply and the Germans steadied. Finland bonds made new highs for the year on a minimum turnover.

WHEAT PRICES DROP SLIGHTLY

Poor Local Support and Weak Cables Depress Values at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1 (CP).—Wheat moved within a narrow range on the Grain Exchange here, today, but met very poor support, and as the result of weak cables and lack of any substantial amount of export worked, closed fractionally lower for the day.

October closed at 55 1-8, December at 56 5-8 to 56 3-4, and May at 61 3-8, all futures being 3-4 down.

Buying was again indifferent and hedging pressure appeared to have increased a little, with movement in the country heavier. Advices from Europe suggested buyers there anticipated pressure of Canadian offerings, and were holding off in their purchases in the hope they would get their wheat cheaper.

Low temperatures were experienced at a number of points in Western Canada, with frost in Northern and Central Alberta, and the mercury in the thirties at several points in Saskatchewan. A return to clear weather, with consequent resumption of harvesting operations and more hedging pressure is therefore to be looked for.

Demand for the top grades of cash wheat, at fractionally improved spreads continued fairly good; but offerings were light, and only a small business was done. Trading in cash coarse grains was slow.

Canadian Issues at Eastern Exchanges Irregularly Higher

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—The Montreal stock market displayed a firm trend in today's trading, the list generally moving fractionally higher. A couple of feature issues made more substantial advances and there were a few losses spread throughout the list. Interlisted issues, which were weak in the morning session, picked up in the afternoon with one exception. Volume was fairly heavy and a wide number of stocks appeared on the board.

The best gains of the day were recorded by Consolidated Smelters and Canadian Celanese. Smelters moved up to a new high for the year, at 90, during the session, but closed a point lower at 89 for a net gain of 4 1-2 points. Celanese was up 1 5-8 at 8 1-8.

International Nickel and Canadian Pacific Railway, both of which were weak in the morning, closed with fractional advances. Nickel gained 1-8 at 11 3-8 and C.P.R. was 3-4 higher at 19 1-4. Brazilian Traction was off 3-8 at 11.

B.C. Power "A" was up 7-8 at 26. Steel of Canada, up 1-2 at 21; Fraser, up 25 cents, at 75 cents, while Abitibi, Canadian Car, Cockshutt Plow, National Steel Car and others showed small fractional gains. Canada Cement, B.C. Packers, Power Corporation and General Steel Wares were slightly lower.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Sept. 1. — Smelters was featured on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. The issue had a turnover in excess of 1,000 shares and a net gain at the close of 4 7-8, its last price being a new high for the year at 89 7-8.

International Nickel was active with sales of 3,505 shares, although there was no change in the closing price from the previous day. Canadian Pacific was also strong, closing with a net gain of 7-8 at 19 1-4, with 3,215 shares traded.

The Toronto list on the whole moved irregularly higher. Aggregate turnover was down to 17,050 shares.

Bell was up 1-2 and Brazilian, with more than 1,500 shares out, was off 1-2. Canada Steamships preferred gained 1-2 to 11, and Montreal Power was up 3-4. Winnipeg Electric lost 2 to close at a new low of 13.

Canadian Car was up 7-8 to a new high of 8 1-4, the preferred gaining 3 to a new high of 18. Page-Hersey gained 3-4, Steel of Canada lost 1-2, and Dominion Bridge closed at a new 1932 high of 21 1-2, with a gain of 1-4. National Steel Car was also at a new high of 2 7-8, with a gain of 3-8.

In the oil group the trend was stronger, British-American gaining 1-8. Imperial was unchanged, International Imperial was up 1-8 and McColl-Frontenac was up 1 to a new high of 11 1-2.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

TORONTO, Sept. 1. — According to the movement on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange today, speculative interest is again turning more to the penny stocks with the oils given the preference. Leaders in the base metals and golds were without feature. The day's turnover fell to 374,000 shares.

Dome Mines, under active trading, opened at $12.50, rose to a new high of $12.75, and closed at $12.60, showing a net gain of 20c.

Lakeshore broke 75c to $28.25; McIntyre fell 15c to $18.35; B.C. Pioneer lost 10c to $3.90.

Coast Copper moved forward 50c to a new high at $3.50. Noranda lost 45c to $1.05; International Nickel declined 35c to $11.25; Hudson Bay fell 20c to $4.45, and Base Metals, 7 points, to $1.17.

In the oils, Royalite has been moving steadily upward and closed on Thursday at $9.50, a new high, and a net gain of 75c. Calgary and Edmonton advanced 15c to 58c; Home jumped 27c to 75c; Mayland, 12c to 32c.

STOCKS CONTINUE TO SHOW GAINS

Oils Close With Market Advances —Mining Issues Strong at Vancouver Market

VANCOUVER, Sept. 1 (CP).—Prices continued to advance in another day of feverish activity on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Some profit taking in the late afternoon session reduced extreme gains a few points, but prices, in most cases, held up well. Gains ranged from 1 to 10 or more points.

Total sales volume was well over the 100,000-share mark.

C. & E. Corporation led the upturn in the oils division, advancing 11 cents to 53. Mayland, after reaching a high of 30 for the movement, closed at 26, up 6. Mercury, at 13 1-2, was up 2 1-2, while A.P. Consolidated and Sterling each gained 1, at 15 and 16, respectively.

Pioneer Gold, in the mines section, sold at 4.00, at which price it closed, up 10. Big Missouri gained 1 to 15. Other mines, however, showed an easier tone, Pend Oreille easing 3 to 1.09; Premier, off 5 at 63, and Reno down 1 at 57.

Coast Breweries, the only active issue in the interlisted stocks, maintained a gain of 50 cents, closing at 9.50.

FOREIGN CURRENCIES COMPILED ON BASIS OF CANADIAN DOLLAR

MONTREAL, Sept. 1 (CP).—British and foreign exchange, in relation to the Canadian dollar, as compiled by the Royal Bank of Canada, closed today as follows:

Argentina (peso), .2896; Australia (pound), 3.0973; Belgium (belga), .1545; Brazil (milreis), .0850; China (Hongkong dollar), .2662; Czechoslovakia (crown), .0331; Denmark (krone), .1999; Finland (finmark), .0173; France (franc), .0437; Germany (reichsmark), .2649.

Great Britain (pound), 3.8619; Greece (drachma), .0072; Holland (florin), .4482; Hungary (pengo), .1949; India (rupee), .2929; Italy (lire), .0571; Japan (yen), .2562; Jugoslavia (dinar), .0192.

New Zealand (pound), 3.5109; Norway (krone), .1937; Poland (zloti), .1259; Rumania (leu), .0069; South Africa (pound), 5.3627; Spain (peseta), .0897; Sweden (krona), .1982; Switzerland (franc), .2158; United States (dollar), 11 3-8 per cent premium.

Canadian Dollar And Pound Rates

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—Both the pound sterling and the United States dollar were easier here today. Sterling closed at $3.86, and United States funds at a premium of 11 3-8 per cent.

AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Climbing steadily, the Canadian dollar almost reached the 90-cent mark today on local foreign exchanges. Opening 1-8 of 1 per cent higher at 89 5-8 in United States funds, the dollar strengthened to 89 3-4 at noon, and held to that figure to the close, a gain of 1-4 over Wednesday's final quotation.

The pound sterling was slightly easier. Moving within a narrow range, it opened off 1-2 cent at $3.46, and finished the day at $3.46 3-4, down quarter of a cent from the previous close.

Montreal Produce

MONTREAL, Sept. 1. — British buyers of cheese continued today to await developments, coming into the Canadian market to a negligible extent only. As a result prices were mostly 1-8c shaded from the previous day, the general quotations being 10c per pound for Ontarios and 9 5-8c for Quebecs. Because of the poor sales throughout the past couple of weeks, shipments of cheese from Montreal to the United Kingdom will be very small this week, probably between 15,000 and 20,000 boxes from present indications.

The butter market held generally at 21 1-2c per lb. for carlots or less of No. 1, unchanged from the previous day.

The egg market was on the quiet side, with prices holding at about the recent peaks.

Creavy Rallies to Win Fine Victory In Pro Golf Meet

Defending Champion Defeats Johnny Perrelli on 36th Hole—Al Collins, Dudley, Olin Dutra, Cruickshank and Walsh Advance

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 1 (AP).—Tom Creavy showed a storming St. Paul gallery today just why he was champion of United States professional golf, as the battle to dethrone him charged into the quarter-final salient.

One down at noon, and two down and three to go, in the thirty-six-hole struggle against Johnny Pereili, of San Francisco, he rushed back two birdies and a par to win, circling the Keller course with a rousing medal card of 69 on the final round that kept the crown on his brow for at least another day.

Creavy was joined by another set of favorites, including Olin Dutra, of Santa Monica, Cal.; Bobby Cruickshank, wee Scot from New York, and big Ed Dudley, of Wilmington, Del. However, John Golden, veteran from Norton, Conn., who defeated Walter Hagen in a record-breaking match of forty-three holes yesterday, was numbered among the upset victims of the day.

Golden met and lost to the surprising Al Collins, of Kansas City, in a desperate struggle that saw both players slipping fast in the stretch, with Collins winning the fight on the thirty-sixth green as his ball kissed off a partial stymie for a birdie 4.

DUDLEY BEATS PAR

Dudley toured the Keller layout with a par-shattering 70. He boomed 6 up at noon, and then cleaned up with another rush of par-breaking golf with a 33 out in the afternoon, winning in a walk, 10 and 9. Over his required route he had fourteen one-putt greens and never was headed.

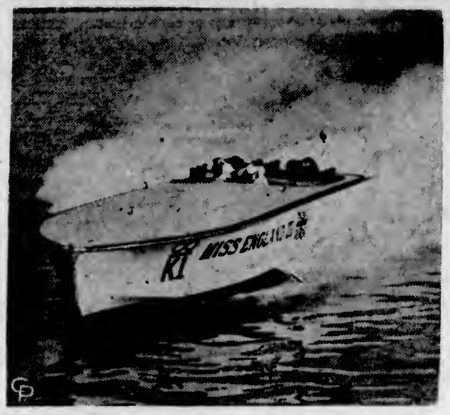

Dutra won by another lop-sided margin, 5 and 3, but he was given a great fight by Reggie Myles, the tiny Scot from Ashland, O.

Cruickshank entered the quarter-finals by eliminating Vincent Elcred, of Pittsburgh, 3 and 1. That match, too, was closer than it looked.

Frank Walsh, of Chicago, back in the golf wars after a serious accident, coasted in. He carved out a 71, one under par, to lead 5 up at noon over Gene Kunes, Hartford, Conn., and broke par by two shots in the afternoon to end the uneven battle on the twenty-eighth hole, 9 and 8.

Ralph Stonehouse, of Indianapolis, and Herman Barron, of Port Chester, N.Y., were the other pair to enter the quarter-finals.

Shows Speed in Trial

RIPPING over the placid surface of the Detroit River at nearly 115 miles an hour, Miss England III, piloted by Kaye Don, British competitor in the Harmsworth trophy regatta at Detroit beginning September 3, demonstrates what Gar Wood, American defender, will be up against when the real tests commence.

CAGE LOOP MAY BE ABOLISHED

Lower Mainland Basketball Association May Go Out of Existence at B.C. Meeting

VANCOUVER, Sept. 1.—Abolition of the Lower Mainland Basketball Association, embracing Vancouver and district, the Fraser Valley and Powell River, is proposed in an amendment to come before the annual meeting of the British Columbia Basketball Association, the date for which, September 17, was announced today by Secretary Walter Hardwick. The general meeting will be held in The Province boardroom at 3 p.m. and will be preceded by an executive session.

The grounds on which the mover of the amendment would eliminate the Lower Mainland body include the fact that the district is relatively small. Greater Vancouver, comprising practically the entire area. For this reason, it is pointed out, three governing bodies, the league itself, the British Columbia Association and the Lower Mainland, should not be necessary. It is suggested that the British Columbia Association resume direct control of all Lower Mainland activities.

Battle to Draw

BELFAST, Sept. 11 (CP).—Linfield and Celtic played to a draw in an Irish Gold Cup soccer game. Each side scored one goal.

LONE TICKET WORTH $803.20; FAVORITES FIND GOING ROUGH

E. B. Baschlin, Swiss Consul at Vancouver, Holds Only Winning Ticket on Daily Double—Five Out of Seven Winners Return Double Figures—Macushla II Wins Fourth

The largest sum to be returned in British Columbia since the daily double bet was inaugurated last year was paid at Colwood race track yesterday when Gaberdine and Bad Nan combined to win the second and third events, respectively, to make a $2 ticket worth $803.20. There was only one pasteboard sold on this combination, and the lucky holder was E. B. Baschlin, Swiss consul at Vancouver, who is holidaying here. When the price was posted on the board there was a rush to the pay-off wicket to see who were the lucky ones, but it turned out there was only one who had figured these two as possible winners.

Mr. Baschlin had fifteen different daily double tickets on the races and strange to say the last one he bought was the lucky one. On Wednesday he purchased twenty-five daily double tickets and did not have a winner among them. Mr. Baschlin is well known in Victoria and for the past twenty-one years has spent his holidays attending horse races in Victoria.

FAVORITES HAVE BAD DAY

The sum returned by the daily double was easily the feature event of the day, but those who managed to get their money on the winners were amply rewarded. Not one favorite in the seven races got home in front and win prices in five events went into double figures. The best odds were paid by Red Nan when she won the third event to return $28.60 for a straight ducat. The next best price was returned in the fourth, when "Rollie" Powell's Macushla II won and rewarded his faithful with $11. Gaberdine, Double Chin and Jimmie Trinz also paid double-barreled win prices, while Nelda W's place tickets in the fifth were worth $12.20. The one-two in the sixth was well figured out and returned only $9.05.

CLOSE VICTORY

The best race of the day was the last, when Harcum took a thrilling hairline decision over Meta Frances. Sporri, Hayward and Palaez led the riders, each bringing home two winning mounts. La Boyne was up on the other winner.

DALE SHOWERS WINS

Jockey Sporri rode the first winner since his recent fall in Vancouver when he brought Dale Showers home in the first race. Jim Rogan was second and Belle Somers third. Dale Showers moved up on the outside in the last sixteenth to win by about a length. Jim Rogan, after taking the lead at the head of the stretch, was a neck in front of Belle Somers. The latter looked to be the best but could not get through when charging fast in the last seventy yards. Star Crescent set the early pace.

Jimmy Audain's Gaberdine took the major share of the pot in the second event. Hindu Jim was second and Star Boat third. Gaberdine was rated behind Star Boat until the stretch, then moved up to win the call by a head. Hindu Jim closed with a rush in taking the place berth. Another Deck also closed strongly.

RED NAN SURPRISES

Red Nan sprung an upset in winning the third race. The favorite, Skoll, was second, and Ethel F. third. Red Nan came from last place on the rail in the drive home and won going away. Skoll opened up a good lead but bore out in the last sixteenth and let the winner through.

Jockey Palaez rode Macushla II, the winner in the fourth race. Cerveza was second and the favorite, Plenty Money, third. Macushla was rated behind the pace for a half, moved up when urged and won by a length. Cerveza just managed to hold off the closing rush of Plenty Money. Miss Seattle opened up a wide lead very early but quit.

DOUBLE CHIN SCORES

Double Chin finally managed to get down in front in taking the fifth race. Nelda W. was second and Zelma M., running as an entry with Blue Middy, third. Double Chin went out in front from the barrier, opened up a good lead and won easily. Nelda W. was a head in front of Zelma M. The favorite, Ah Deghah, challenged at the head of the stretch but was not good enough.

Charging down on the outside on the home stretch, Jimmie Trinz won the sixth gallop. Extension was second and Fanny Fasterton third. Jimmie Trinz, always well up, moved up when ready to take the decision by a length. Extension was on top until overtaken by the winner. Fanny Fasterton closed strongly and was only a neck behind Extension.

HARCUM SHOWS WAY

Taking the lead after going a quarter, Harcum took a thrilling decision over Meta Frances in the seventh. Paved Way was third. Meta Frances charged down the stretch with a tremendous burst of speed and lost by an eyelash. It was the closest thing to a dead heat. Paved Way was always well up. Shasta Lily challenged on the last turn but could not get up and finished fourth.

HY SHARMAN WINS FROM N.Y. MATMAN

Salt Lake City Grappler Awarded Two Falls Over Joe Reno

Awarded falls in the fifth and sixth rounds when his opponent decided to use the closed fist and strangle hold, Hy Sharman, Salt Lake City middleweight, won the main event on last night's wrestling card at the Tillicum gymnasium against Joe Reno, New York. In the five-round semi-wind-up, Tiny Simmons, Portland, and Ray Ryan, Los Angeles, wrestled to a draw, each gaining a fall. Fat Griffins won the local preliminary by getting falls in the third and fourth, to take the measure of Johnny Pears.

Reno took the opening fall in the main event with a strong Boston crab hold after three minutes of the fourth round. The fifth round was still in its infancy when Referee Arthur gave Sharman a fall when Reno continually punched his opponent with a closed fist. Reno started the last round by applying the stranglehold and, after being warned by the referee, the New Yorker gained a strong hold around Sharman's neck and was disqualified a few minutes later. The decision went well with the fans.

Simmons took the first fall over Ryan with the use of a jack-knife and double wristlock after four minutes of the third round. Two powerful body slams after three minutes of the next session gave Ryan the second fall of the match. Both lads went at it at a fast clip during the last round, but failed to come to a decision.

CHILDREN'S FIELD DAY TO BE HELD THIS AFTERNOON

The children's field day to be held at the Royal Athletic Park today will start at 1:30 o'clock. Mayor Leeming and several aldermen will attend. Music will be provided by the Boys' Band, and ice cream will be served free to the children. A large crowd is expected to watch the budding track and field stars in action.

Victoria West senior football club will hold a special workout tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Heywood Avenue Park. All last year's players and those interested are asked to turn out.

TAIYOS AND EAGLES PLAY TO DEADLOCK

Second Fixture of Twilight League Play-Offs End in 5-5 Score

Driving across three runs in the final frame, Taiyos gained a 5-5 deadlock with the Eagles in the second fixture of the Twilight Baseball League play-offs last night at the Royal Athletic Park. The game will be replayed Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock, at the same enclosure. The series is best three out of five games for the league championship. Eagles wno the first fixture Tuesday, 4-2.

M. Ishida went the route for the Japanese, but found it hard to locate the plate at times, and his support was anything but good, his teammates being charged with five errors in the five innings played. He fanned three and issued five walks. Joe Emery started for the Eagles and went along nicely until the fifth, when the Taiyos got to him for several hits and three runs to tie the score. Emery went to the showers with one out, and Art Carr took up the hurling duties. Carr fanned the next two batters and saved the game for the feathered tribe.

GREEN Mill and Sons of Canada will resume their battle for the Senior Amateur Baseball League pennant this evening ta the Royal Athletic Park at 5:30 o'clock, when they clash in the second fixture of the four-out-of-seven series. Green Mill took the first fixture Wednesday evening by a 2-0 score. Secretary Ramsdale announced yesterday that the third and fourth fixtures would take place Monday in the form of a double-header, the first fixture being billed in the morning at 10:30 o'clock and the matinee attraction at 3 o'clock.

BAER ROBBED OF KNOCKOUT

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Max Baer, Livermore, Cal., defeated Ernie Schaaf, Boston heavyweight challenger, in a ten-round battle last night, with the bell robbing him of a knockout victory.

Two seconds before the fight ended Schaaf was knocked flat on his face, completely knocked out. He was dragged to his corner, laid on his back while his seconds worked over him for three minutes restoring him to his senses.

The fight will not be recognized as a knockout for Baer, because the bell sounded just two seconds after Schaaf was floored.

SPEEDBOATS ALL SET FOR TROPHYRACE

Kaye Don and Gar Wood Complete Trials for Harmsworth Event

DETROIT, Sept. 1.—Kaye Don, British holder of the world's speedboat record, and his veteran rival, Gar Wood, of Detroit, today completed final tests on the two fastest boats ever built, in preparation for the first heat of the Harmsworth Trophy race at 6:30 a.m., Eastern daylight saving time, Saturday on Lake St. Clair.

With race day only two sunrises distant, indications tonight were that Wood, piloting Miss America X, will oppose Don's Miss England III over the seven nautical-mile course without having made a single test run over the course.

Don brought out Miss England III today in rough water for his final tryout, and found the going hard as he bounced around the course at about a ninety-mile-an-hour clip. Wood, declaring the course was too rough, sent his Miss America X down the smoother channel of the Detroit River at an estimated speed of 100 miles an hour, and returned to his boat well, saying he probably would not make another test. He has not circled the regular course in the boat.

OFFICIALS IN UPSET

Thrown into Lake St. Clair when their speedboat capsized while traveling forty-five miles an hour, six members of the Harmsworth Trophy race committee were rescued as they clung to the overturned boat. The six, including Captain Charles D. Brown, Toronto, Canadian representative of Lord Wakefield, of England, were returning to shore after watching Kaye Don, pilot of Miss England III, make a trial run. When they were 1,800 feet from shore the boat controls jammed and the boat capsized in choppy water.

Brown was knocked unconscious, but was pulled to the overturned boat by the others. A cruiser put out at once and took the six aboard.

Sailors Invited To Attend Races At Colwood Track

OFFICERS and men of H.M.S. Delhi, the British cruiser now visiting Victoria, have been extended an invitation by officials of the local racing association to be their guests at the Colwood races today, tomorrow and Monday. It is expected that a large number of the sailors will take advantage of this invitation.

LOCAL SQUAD MAY PLAY IN FIVE MATCHES

Schedule May Be Shortened in Canadian Rugby on Account of Play-Offs

VANCOUVER, Sept. 1.—The Big Four Canadian Rugby League schedule may be considerably curtailed this season, if the New Westminster and Victoria entries agree to a short schedule drawn up by league officials, and already approved by Meraloma, V.A.C. and Varsity representatives. Owing to the fact that the Western Canadian play-offs are slated for the Coast this year, the league fixtures must be concluded about November 1. The first interprovincial play-off is to take place on Armistice Day, November 11.

Under the proposed shortened schedule, V.A.C., Varsity and Meralomas will play six games apiece, and New Westminster and Victoria, five each. The championship will be decided on a percentage basis. Four or five night games will be included on the list. The league opens September 24, with a game between Meralomas and V.A.C.

The V.A.C. club commences heavy workouts on Tuesday in preparation for a game in Seattle against the Woodland Heights aggregation, September 18. The Seattle squad, brilliant forward passing artists, played the V.A.C. here last New Year's.

U.S. Sweeps First Four Walker Cup Golf Encounters

Americans Defeat Britishers in Foursomes by One-Sided Margins—Howell and Don Given Hard Battle—Singles Carded for Today

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 1 (AP).—The freshmen of United States amateur golf came through with flying colors today in their first test under international fire, with the result the United States defeated Great Britain's challengers in all four of the thirty-six-hole Scotch foursomes, making up the first day's engagement of the Walker Cup battle.

There were no competitive thrills outside of one flashing rally put on in vain by the British juveniles, twenty-two-year-old Eric McRuvie and Eric Fiddian, in a sensational match with Don Moe, of Oregon, and Billy Howell, of Virginia.

Howell and Moe, in the final match of the day, stopped their rivals, 5 and 4, with a rally of their own on the homeward nine, after a lapse in which the American boys dropped five out of six successive holes.

OUIMET, DUNLAP WIN

Captain Francis Ouimet, belying any doubts about the state of his health, combined with young George T. Dunlap, Jr., of New York, former intercollegiate champion, to administer a 7 and 6 defeat to the Anglo-Irish combination of John Stout and John Burke.

The veteran "lead-off" team of George Voigt and Jess Sweetser, of New York, after a fairly close tussle a good part of the way, came out in the afternoon to shake off the Hartley brothers, Rex and List, and won by 7 and 6.

The biggest jolt to the invaders was posted when their crack combination of John De Forest, British champion, and Tony Torrance, captain of the team, fell before the surge of two newcomers to the competition, Gus Moreland, of Dallas, and Charley Seaver, of Los Angeles. Fortified by a rush that gave them seven of the first nine holes in the morning round, these rising stars coasted in for a 6 and 5 victory.

Captain Ouimet's youthful array today piled up a total margin of twenty-five holes.

NEED THREE VICTORIES

Eight single matches over the thirty-six-hole route, conclude the Walker Cup series tomorrow. Victory in only three of these contests will clinch the cup for the United States.

Moe and Howell will yield their places in the line-up for the singles tomorrow to Maurice McCarthy, Jr., of New York, and Jack Westland, of Chicago, under the United States policy of giving the biggest possible opportunity to its new talent.

The other six Americans figuring in today's play will continue in the singles, led by Captain Ouimet, while the chief shift in the British ranks sends their national title-holder, De Forest, to the sidelines, as a result of his erratic performance today. De Forest's substitute is Leonard Crawley, twenty-nine-year-old English schoolmaster.

SINGLES DRAW

The line-ups for tomorrow's Walker Cup thirty-six-hole singles matches follow:

Captain Francis Ouimet, United States, vs. Captain Tony Torrance, Great Britain.

Gus Moreland, United States, vs. Rex. Hartley, Great Britain.

Charley Seaver, United States, vs. Eric Fiddian, Great Britain.

Maurice McCarthy, United States, vs. Lister Hartley, Great Britain.

Jack Westland, United States, vs. John Burke, Great Britain.

DRAW RELEASED FOR GOLF MEET

First Rounds of Match Play in "B" Class Tourney to Start Tomorrow

First rounds of match play in the "B" class city golf championship will get under way at the Gorge Vale Club tomorrow afternoon, according to the draw released yesterday by Secretary James Smart. Terry Peers, medalist, will face J. Barlow in the opening round. Peers led the field by two strokes and is the favorite for the crown.

The draw and starting times follows:

1:30—T. S. Peers vs. J. Barlow.
1:35—D. Fairbairn vs. D. A. Nairns.
1:40—A. J. Wakeman vs. C. S Burgess.
1:45—C. Milton vs. L. J. Roach.
1:50—F. Pearce vs. A. Dowell.
1:55—R. Love vs. J. R. Robinson.
2:00—J. L. McIntyre vs. W. P. Bowden.
2:05—C. F. Banfield vs. R. Humberstone.

Second Flight

2:10—D. Brown vs. E. G. Beastall.
Byes—Bert Waude, W. J. Clayton and J. A. Wiley.

THREE TIED FOR LEAD IN B.C. OPEN GOLF MEET

Phil Taylor, Dave Black and Leonard Grouped With 144

Victoria and Shaughnessy Pros and Provincial Amateur Titlist Bracketed at Half-Way Mark —Walter Gravlin Has 156, Alan Taylor 158, Burns 159, Clunk 163, Marling 164

JERICHO GOLF CLUB, VANCOUVER, Sept. 1 (CP).—Three of the leading shotmakers of the province, two professionals and an amateur, swept over the rolling fairways of the Jericho Golf Club in even par figures to a three-way tie for the first play in the opening thirty-six holes of the British Columbia Open professional golf tournament today.

Phil Taylor, defending champion from Oak Bay club, Victoria, turned in two perfect rounds of 72 to get into the top bracket. Dave Black, stocky Shaughnessy pro, added a 71 to his morning card of 73 to tie with Taylor, while Stan Leonard, British Columbia amateur titleholder, duplicated Taylor's rounds to make the third member of the triumvirate.

One stroke behind the leaders came Don Sutherland, who missed making a four-way tie when his three-foot putt on the final green just rimmed the cup. Kenny Black, youthful Shaughnessy shotmaker, after touring the first seventeen holes in the afternoon round in subpar figures, dropped his iron shot into the trap on the eighteenth and needed six for the hole, which gave him a 72 and 147 for the day.

BENNY COLK SLIPS

In sixth place, just one stroke behind Black was Ernie Tate, Vancouver. Tate turned in two steady cards of 74 for each of his rounds. Benny Colk, after a morning card of 71, one of the best cards of the day, faltered in the late round and required 78 for 149 and seventh place.

Farther down the list but still in the running were three Island stars. Walter Gravlin galloped round the thirty-six holes for two cards of 78, while two strokes back came A. Taylor with cards of 77-81. Freddy Burns added a 79 to his first round score of 80 to place behind Taylor.

Freddy Clunk, Victoria, with 81-82 for 163, and Alex Marling, Colwood, with 81-83-164, trailed far down the list with little hope of catching a place among the prize winners tomorrow.

George Lovatt To Referee Mat Card Saturday

GEORGE Lovatt, former light-heavyweight amateur wrestling champion of Canada, will referee all bouts at the card to be presented at the Gray Line roller rink by the Pacific Stadium. The ten-round main event will be between Rudy La Ditzi, of Hungary, and Wallace Moscovitch, of Russia. The semi will bring together Fred Maralli, Italy, and Pat Callahan, Ireland.

Gadou Will Team Up With Crossley In Six-Day Event

VANCOUVER, Sept. 1.—Colorful French-Canadian pedal star, Laurant Gadou, has been chosen to pair with Al Crossley, speedy Englishman, for the six-day bicycle race opening in the Arena one minute after midnight, Sunday. Gadou has won the hearts of Eastern bike race enthusiasts with his daring and flashy riding, despite the fact that he is only twenty years old. A couple of years back he lost half his left foot when it was crushed by a truck, but the dummy toes do not slow him up a bit.

Twenty-Two Riders Will Race at Hill on Monday

Classy Field of Local and Vancouver Bike Experts to Compete in Annual Labor Day Events—Penwill Cup Race Is Feature

Five Victoria and three Vancouver riders will face Starter Chief of Police Thomas Heatley in the annual Penwill Cup ten-mile bicycle race around Beacon Hill Park, Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock, according to the list released yesterday by Secretary George Robinson. Last year's winner, Sid Luck, of Vancouver, has not entered, and therefore a great bid to crown a new titleholder should be the result.

Besides the cup event, the trophy for which was newly presented last year by the B.S.A. Cycle Company, after Jim Davies had won the original Penwill Cup outright by flashing around the track to a new record in 1930, there are two one-mile British Columbia championships for boys under seventeen and open, and two handicap events for the youngsters under fifteen and eighteen. Cups and medals for the various events are now on display at George Robinson's store at 1220 Broad Street. Twenty-two riders will seek the honors in the five events, including Glen Robbins, flashy local star, who was a member of the Canadian Olympic team at Los Angeles.

LIST OF RIDERS

Complete list of riders follows:

One-mile British Columbia junior championship—Claude Peden, Doug. Peden, Jim Yates, Gerald Vantreight, Garfield Robbins, Stan Hulford, Stan Johnston (Vancouver), Charlie Warren.

One-mile British Columbia championship, open — George Farmer, Ken Lambert (Vancouver), Bev. Peden, Glen Robbins, Stan Johnstone (Vancouver), Morris Robinson (Vancouver), W. Rippell (Vancouver).

One-mile handicap, boys under fifteen—Ken Reid, Don Vantreight, Clifford Robbins, Garfield Warren, Howard Mezzer.

Two-mile handicap, boys under eighteen — Claude Peden, Doug. Peden, Jim Yates, Gerald Vantreight, Garfield Robbins, Stan Johnstone (Vancouver), Stan Hulford, Harold Whitehead, Bill Morrison, Charlie Warren, George Robinson.

Ten-mile cup race—George Farmer, Ken Lambert (Vancouver), Bev. Peden, Glen Robbins, Garfield Robbins, Stan Johnstone (Vancouver), Harold Whitehead, Morris Robinson (Vancouver), W. Rippell (Vancouver).

Shawnigan Softballers Capture Island Title

Up-Islanders Defeat Jokers in Third and Final Game by 7-3 Score—Costly Errors Wreck Chances of Victoria Champions

(Special to The Colonist)

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Sept. 1.—Brilliant pitching by Elmer Evans, coupled with erratic fielding by the visiting squad, gave Shawnigan Lake a great 7-3 victory over the Jokers, of Victoria, in the final fixture for the Vancouver Island softball championship here this evening. By their victory, the home nine will represent the Island in the provincial play-offs, the first time in the history of the game that a squad outside of Victoria has gained the honor.

Shawnigan captured the first game here on Sunday, but lost in Victoria on Tuesday evening at the Victoria West Park. Jokers took the lead in the first inning when Mike Wagland was sent the distance, but the home squad went to work and drove across two runners in the second and then bunched hits in the third to increase their lead with two more tallies. Jokers managed to get runs in the fourth and fifth to make it 4-3 in Shawnigan's favor.

BALLOON GOES UP

In the eighth the balloon went up as far as the Jokers were concerned and error after error crept into their play. Their infield went to pieces and before the frame was over Shawnigan had scored three runs to clinch the game. Edmunds' double brought in two of them and Cronk crossed the plate with the third.

De Costa pitched for the visitors, but was hit hard, while his support was anything but good. Nine errors were chalked up against the Jokers' infield, Harry Youson and Mike Wagland being guilty of seven between them.

Mackmen Rally to Trim Detroit, 5-4—New York Loses to Senators

AMERICAN LEAGUE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—A brace of home runs in the sixth inning brought about the downfall of young Tommy Bridges today and gave the Athletics a 5-to-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers. The A's won the series, three games to two.

Up to the sixth Bridges pitched great ball and was tied at 1-1 in a battle with Rube Walberg. But at that point he tossed home-run balls to Al Simmons and Bing Miller, with a man on base each time, and the four runs were just enough to decide the game.

Crowder Beats Yanks

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—"General" Alvin Crowder pitched Washington to a 6-to-2 victory over the Yankees today and showed the league leaders the nearest thing to a shutout they have seen all season.

Crowder gave only two hits and didn't allow a run until one was out in the ninth. The Yanks came through then on Charlie Ruffing's pinch single, giving them a record of 131 games without having been blanked. Their mark is only one short of the all-time major league record, set jointly by the Boston Nationals and the Phillies in 1894, when they each went through a 132-game season without a shutout.

Two walks preceded Ruffing's pinch blow and made it possible for Ben Chapman to score the run that saved the record. Lyn Lary tallied the next run as Combs forced Hoag, who ran for Ruffing.

Goodrich Torture Chamber reveals the new 26% better
SUPER CAVALIER

"BLACK MARIA," one of the grim instruments in this torture chamber, testing the toughness of the new Super Cavalier.

IN the Goodrich laboratories stands a battery of huge machines that hammer, twist and pull at the very heart of a tire, destroying it to discover its weaknesses. Daily hundreds of stock tires run the gamut of these machines.

This is the Goodrich Torture Chamber. These steel monsters are part of a never-ending determination to make better tires —tires that are worthy of the name Goodrich.

Out of this constant testing and proving comes the new Goodrich Super Cavalier. A brand-new tread design—a heavier, tougher tread, a stronger carcass. All the way through, a 26% better tire than ever before.

TAXES JUST $12 PER YEAR

AT ONLY $37 PER ACRE we can offer this very unique property, beautifully situated at the head of Finlayson Arm, 13 miles from Victoria on the Island Highway. There is an ideal site for a permanent residence or hotel overlooking the Arm, surrounded by natural timber, and most adaptable for pleasure grounds, lawns and gardens, which can be irrigated by gravity from a nearby spring, and besides this, there is plenty of room for a number of Summer cottages on the waterfront. While some of the land is hilly, there is quite a lot of land that could be cultivated and the timber is another big asset, having never been touched. There is perfect anchorage for boats, warm and safe bathing. Good shooting, deer, grouse, quail and duck, and the fishing on the Arm has now become famous—big spring salmon and cod.

My Theories on Golf

Left Foot Should Be Pointed Slightly Outward to Facilitate Free Body Turn

By BOBBY JONES

I have been studying again some sets of motion pictures of various stars, and while doing so, it occurred to me that it was doubtful if the average golfer was aware of the very great importance of the placing of his left foot in addressing the ball. For here is another of those places where a tiny error can produce a major mistake elsewhere while itself remaining unsuspected.

A few years ago there was a young professional who was playing very excellent golf and having a good bit of success in Winter tournaments. To most observers he appeared to have a flawless swing with every club, and it was freely predicted that he would continue an uninterrupted progress to the top of the heap. But even while the young pro was still going at top speed, winning tournament after tournament, there was one man, one of our foremost instructors, who pointed out a flaw, or at least a potential flaw, in that swing and predicted that the young man would soon begin to have some trouble with it.

ARM SHOULD NOT FOLD UP

Motion pictures revealed, so the instructor said, that the young pro was not hitting through the ball for a sufficient distance to allow him enough margin to take care of the slightest error in timing. His left arm was folding up only the tiniest bit of an instant after impact. The instructor said that as he grew older the tendency would be for the arm to fold up a little sooner before impact and that his game would suffer until he could school himself to hit through the ball.

This was a very interesting thought when I first heard it from the instructor himself. I watched the young pro very carefully and I could see that the danger was really there. But studying the pictures over and over again, and then watching the man play, it seems perfectly plain to me that the position of his left foot could very easily be the cause of his trouble.

THWARTS HIP TURN

In this case the left foot is placed so that the toe points straight to the front of the player, at a right angle to the line of play. The turn of the body during the backswing is ample and the left arm is admirably straight. But as the hands return, in the act of hitting, to their approximate location at address, the hips have found themselves thwarted in their turn by the position of the left foot, which has so placed the muscles and joints of the legs that a further movement is not possible without great strain. The left hip thus blocked in turn blocks the arms, so that the swing can be completed only by relaxing the left elbow. So long as this occurs any distance after the ball has been struck everything is lovely. But whenever it happens the least bit before, the shot must be ruined.

The players with the best left arms—those who hit through for several inches past the ball and allow themselves ample margin—are the most consistent performers. It will be found that these men all turn the left toe outward, that is, toward the hole, to some degree. In every case, at impact the left hip has turned back away from the line of play where it offers no obstruction to the arms.

In determining the placing of the left foot, remember that the body must turn comfortably both ways. So it must not be placed to offer an obstruction to motion in either direction. But the turn backward is more slowly done and therefore can overcome some resistance, while the turn forward, being very rapid and to a degree instinctive, should be given encouragement.

BOBBY JONES
at the finish of a stroke. The left toe, pointed slightly outward, has allowed the left side to come through without a sign of a break.

HOW IT STARTED By JEAN NEWTON

THE WORD "LAYMAN"

Today we use this word to indicate that one is not of some particular profession or class of experts, as, "Of course as a layman talking to a physician I must seem presumptuous." We use it popularly with reference to all professions. But it was exclusively with reference to the clergy, or rather those who were not of the clergy, that the word came into our language.

We have "layman" from the Old Franch "lai," meaning "secular, belonging to the laity, those not of the church." And that was the significance of the original Middle English word "layman." Ultimately the French "lai" goes back to the Greek which means "of the people."

At the Theatres

BRITISH SUCCESS AT EMPIRE TODAY

Arthur Wontner Plays Sherlock Holmes in "The Sign of Four."

Just as "Madame X" served to bring Ruth Chatterton new fame when she appeared in the talking picture version of the famous old melodrama, so did the role of Raymond Fleuriot in "Madame X" definitely launch on a sensational career Arthur Wontner, celebrated English star. Arthur Wontner, who will be seen on the Empire Theatre screen today in the role of Sherlock Holmes in Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's "The Sign of Four," has played close to two hundred important roles on the stage, and has already to his credit a number of screen characterizations.

According to Mr. Wontner, there is no difference between American and English audiences, and, therefore, it is his belief that the loud applause accorded "The Sign of Four" in Great Britain will be re-echoed on this side of the big pond.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Murray Kinnell, playing the fascinating role of Inspector Breckenridge in "The Deceiver," the current Columbia attraction at the Playhouse Theatre, is one of the better-known English actors, prominent on the stages of London and New York. He first came to Hollywood to play with George Arliss in "Old English," and has since appeared in "The Public Enemy," "The Secret Six" and "The Guilty Generation."

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol — Chic Sale in "Stranger in Town."

Columbia—"The Texas Bad Man," starring Tom Mix.

Dominion—Phillips Holmes in "Night Court."

Empire—"The Sign of Four," starring Arthur Wontner.

Playhouse—Ian Keith in "The Deceiver."

Romano—"Alias the Doctor," starring Richard Barthelmess.

Crystal Garden—Swimming.

COLUMBIA THEATRE "The Texas Bad Man" will remain at the Columbia Theatre only two days longer, with Tom Mix holding the spotlight with one of his best reputed performances since he decided to forsake private-life adventures for screen adventures. Lucille Powers, Fred Kohler and Willard Robertson head an excellent supporting cast, and Edward Laemmle directed the rousing film.

ROMANO THEATRE In "Alias the Doctor," a First National picture now at the Romano Theatre, Richard Barthelmess, its star, feels he has one of the finest roles of his long and brilliant screen career. Supporting Barthelmess in the picture, the story of which is by Houston Branch, are Marian Marsh, Adrienne Dore, Norman Foster, George Rosener, Oscar Apfel, Claire Dodd, Reginald Barlow, Lucille La Verne, Wallis Clark, Arnold Lucy, and Robert Farfan. Michael Curtiz was the director.

CAPITOL THEATRE Rare entertainment is offered in the big double bill shown at the Capitol Theatre for the latter part of this week. "Stranger in Town," the Warner Bros. comedy classic starring real folks, featuring "Chic" Sale, deals with a grocery war in a small town. Two complete stores were built and supplied with plain and fancy groceries. Ann Dvorak, David Manners, Lyle Talbot and Noah Beery are in the supporting cast. Also on the same bill is Warren William in "Dark Horse."

Brazilian Troops and Captured Trench

Comedy Quartette Coming Tomorrow

"Horse Feathers," latest of the mad, merry comedies of the four Marx Brothers, opens tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre.

Groucho, Chico, Harpo and Zeppo are again cast together in a picture that affords them opportunities for the same type of nonsense they presented in "Animal Crackers," "Monkey Business" and the "Cocoanuts," their three previous movie efforts.

An amusing plot holds the picture together. Groucho is a college president because that's the only way, it seems, he can get his son, Zeppo, out of college. Zeppo has been there twelve years.

With the co-operation of Chico, village bootlegger, and Harpo, village dogcatcher, he ultimately accomplishes his object.

A slice of beef, the first cut by Mayor Hayward Wells, at a public ox-roast at Bedford, England, was sold for $300.

HIGH SALARY MEN RETIRED

Heads of Railway and Telegraph Depts., National Lines, Out

MONTREAL, Sept. 1 (CP).—Further action to promote economy by abolishing higher-salaried positions on the Canadian National Railways was announced at the head office here today. A number of officials with long periods of service were retired. Several positions were merged or dropped entirely. A number of officials were transferred and in some cases operating divisions were amalgamated.

The reorganization was not confined to the Canadian railways, but extended to the Central Vermont Railway, a subsidiary. Many changes were effected in the personnel of the telegraph and telephone departments. All became effective today.

In the telegraph and telephone departments, four officers were retired: W. G. Barber, general manager, with office at Toronto; R. H. Hathaway, superintendent of reports, Toronto; G. H. Stead, superintendent at Vancouver, and C. H. Daniels, manager at Vancouver. D. E. Galloway, assistant vice-president, is given charge of telegraphs and telephones, with headquarters in Toronto. Five senior positions are abolished.

NEARLY FIFTY YEARS

"The railroad officers retiring are G. P. Clarke, superintendent of car service at Toronto, who has completed forty-four years' service; A. F. Stewart, regional chief engineer, Moncton, N.B., who retires after lengthy railroad service, twenty-five years of which has been with Canadian National and predecessor lines, and W. N. Rippey, who retires as superintendent at Moncton, after half a century of service.

Several staff changes on the Central Vermont Railway, a United States subsidiary of the Canadian National Railways, were also announced.

John W. Hanley, general freight and passenger agent, with fifty years' service in the company, and E. J. Guthrien, superintendent of the southern division, New London, Conn., will retire. Two positions in the company are abolished, those of assistant to the vice-president at St. Albans, and the marine superintendent, New London.

PRIZE WINNERS ARE ANNOUNCED

It took 409 pounds 12 ounces of butter to construct Our Own Brand exhibit at the recent fair, but it also required the critical eye of S. M. Carter, of 2580 Beach Drive, to estimate the correct weight. There were nine prizes awarded in the contest and all came within five ounces of the winner.

The exhibit was carved by Christopher Bakken, one of the employees of the Central Creameries, Limited.

Cobble Hill Bull Reserve Champion

The splendid Brampton animal also won the blue ribbon as senior champion with Spy Girl's Sultan, owned by Charles Antenen, of Lulu Island, placed as reserve champion.

M'ADOO AND TUBBS WIN IN PRIMARIES

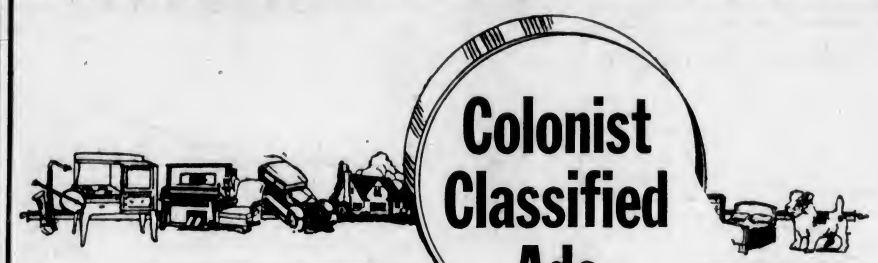

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1. — A contest in November between the veteran William Gibbs McAdoo and a man half his age, Tallant Tubbs, of San Francisco, newcomer in national Republican politics, for the California Senatorship, held for twelve years by Samuel M. Shortridge, appeared certain tonight on almost complete unofficial returns of yesterday's primary.

With returns from 10,196 of the state's 10,531 precincts, McAdoo had a lead of 148,279 votes over his closest opponent. The same precincts gave Tubbs a lead of 18,906 over Shortridge, second of the five candidates.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

Why Two-Stripes Didn't Return

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

The headstrong and the wilful spurn
The thought that they have aught to learn.
—Jimmy Skunk.

Two-stripes was the name of the headstrong young Skunk who wandered away from the rest of the family and had an adventure with Old Man Coyote, causing the latter to think twice. He was so named because of the manner in which his black coat was striped with white.

Two-stripes was pleased with himself. He was very much pleased with himself. Had he not faced Old Man Coyote, many times bigger than himself and with a wicked looking set of teeth, and made him afraid? "He didn't dare touch me," thought Two-stripes proudly. He was afraid to. He knew I have a scent gun just like father and mother and he was afraid of it. I guess if such a big, fierce fellow as he is afraid there isn't anybody in all the Great World for me to fear. I thought I could take care of myself and now I know I can."

Just then he remembered a warning his mother had given him and his brothers and sisters. She had told them that there was one, Hooty the Owl, who seemed to have little fear of their scent guns, and therefore must be watched out for. But this memory didn't trouble him any.

"She was just trying to scare us," thought he, "so that we would keep

He stood still and listened near her. I don't know who this Hooty is, but I guess if he comes along and sees me ready for him he won't stop long. Did I hear someone stamping?"

He stood still and listened. Yes, someone was stamping, and he knew who it was. "That is Mother stamping for me," he chuckled. "She has missed me and is stamping a signal for me. Well, let her stamp. The rest of them can keep under the shadow of her tail if they want to, but I don't intend to. Now that I know where she and the rest of them are I'll join them when I get ready and not before. I'll show her that I can take care of myself."

So Two-stripes didn't stamp back. He kept very still. He knew by the sound that his mother was not far away and that gave him all the more confidence. Then he heard another stamp and guessed that that was his father. He kept still. Several times he heard stamping and it came from different places.

"They are looking for me," thought he, and went his way looking for crickets and fat beetles.

He heard no more and soon forgot everything else in the excitement of catching crickets and digging out grubs. He never thought to look about for danger that he might be prepared to meet it. If he heard he didn't heed the hunting call of Hooty the Owl from a tree on the edge of the Green Forest. His father and his mother and his nine brothers and sisters heard that call, and it would have surprised Two-stripes could he have seen how quickly his father and mother got the family out of sight and how still they all kept.

Again that hunting cry and again Two-stripes gave it no heed. He pounced on a cricket with a little growl of pleasure. He ate that cricket and prepared to look for another. A shadow seemed to drift over him. It passed and there was no Two-Stripes there in the grass hunting crickets. It wasn't a shadow, but Hooty the Owl on noiseless wings who had passed and without pause picked up Two-stripes, the headstrong and wilful. He hadn't had a chance to use his little scent gun. He hadn't even known who it was that caught him.

The next story: "The Egg Hunters."

Weighing fourteen pounds, a new local record, a lobster was caught recently in Mulroy Bay, Ulster, by Mrs. M. McBride.
